Sweeter The Juice A Family Memoir In Black And White:

The Sweeter the Juice Shirlee T. Haizlip, 1995-04-01 The Sweeter the Juice is a provocative memoir that goes to the heart of our American identity Shirlee Taylor Haizlip in an effort to reconcile the dissonance between her black persona and her undeniably multiracial heritage started on a journey of discovery that took her over thousands of miles and hundreds of years While searching for her mother's family Haizlip confronted the deeply intertwined but often suppressed tensions between race and skin color We are drawn in by the story of an African American family Some members chose to cross over and pass for white while others enjoyed a successful black life Their stories weave a tale of tangled ancestry mixed blood and identity issues from the 17th century to the present The Sweeter the Juice is a memoir a social history a biography and an autobiography Haizlip gives to us the quintessential American story unveiling truths about race about our society and about the ways in which we all perceive and judge one another Sweeter the Juice Shirlee Taylor Haizlip, 1995-01-27 Author's memoir and history of her family spanning six generations chronicling what it is like to be racially mixed Memoirs of Race, Color, and Belonging Nicole Stamant, 2022-06-23 Memoirs of Race Color and Belonging provides a fresh look at the complex dialogue of race and identity in memoir examining three generations of biracial African Americans experiences in their autobiographies Exploring writers from James McBride and Shirlee Taylor Haizlip to Barack Obama Toi Dericotte Natasha Trethway Rebecca Walker and Emily Raboteau this volume explores the ways in which these memoirists refute terms regarding race and simple understandings of belonging using their contested embodied positions as sites for narration quest and protest Organized chronologically this volume will provide readers insight into memoirs from Jim Crow America to the Civil Rights period and finally those considering the post soul and post Loving v Virginia generation Memoirs of Race Color and Belonging interrogates these difficult spaces surrounding identity construction encouraging new conversations surrounding visibility of mixed race individuals and experiences for future generations Through archives and personal testimony this book provides a model for interweaving theoretical and personal accounts of color in American culture to encourage discussions that transgress disciplinary boundaries in the today's dialogue The Souls of Mixed Folk Michele Elam, 2011-02-21 The Souls of Mixed Folk examines representations of mixed race in literature and the arts that redefine new millennial aesthetics and politics Focusing on black white mixes Elam analyzes expressive works novels drama graphic narrative late night television art installations as artistic rejoinders to the perception that post Civil Rights politics are bereft and post Black art is apolitical Reorienting attention to the cultural invention of mixed race from the social sciences to the humanities Elam considers the creative work of Lezley Saar Aaron McGruder Nate Creekmore Danzy Senna Colson Whitehead Emily Raboteau Carl Hancock Rux and Dave Chappelle All these writers and artists address mixed race as both an aesthetic challenge and a social concern and together they gesture toward a poetics of social justice for the mulatto millennium The Souls of Mixed Folk seeks a middle way between competing hagiographic and apocalyptic impulses in mixed race scholarship between those who proselytize mixed race as the great hallelujah to the race problem and those who can only hear the alarmist bells of civil rights destruction Both approaches can obscure some of the more critically astute engagements with new millennial iterations of mixed race by the multi generic cohort of contemporary writers artists and performers discussed in this book The Souls of Mixed Folk offers case studies of their creative work in an effort to expand the contemporary idiom about mixed race in the so called post race moment asking how might new millennial expressive forms suggest an aesthetics of mixed race And how might such an aesthetics productively reimagine the relations between race art and social equity in the twenty first century Neither Black Nor White Yet Both Werner Sollors,1999 Why can a white woman give birth to a black baby while a black woman can never give birth to a white baby in the United States What makes racial passing so different from social mobility Why are interracial and incestuous relations often confused or conflated in literature making miscegenation appear as if it were incest Werner Sollors examines these questions and others in Neither Black nor White yet Both a fully researched investigation of literary works that in the past have been read more for a black white contrast of either or than for an interracial realm of neither nor both and in between From the origins of the term race to the cultural sources of the Tragic Mulatto and from the calculus of color to the retellings of various plots Sollors examines what we know about race analyzing recurrent motifs in scientific and legal works as well as in fiction drama and poetry

Biracial in America Nikki Khanna,2011-09-16 Elected in 2008 Barack Obama made history as the first African American president of the United States Though recognized as the son of a white Kansas born mother and a black Kenyan father the media and public have nonetheless pigeonholed him as black and he too self identifies as such Obama s experience as an American with black and white ancestry though compelling because of his celebrity is not unique and raises several questions about the growing number of black white biracial Americans today How are they perceived by others with regard to race How do they tend to identify And why Taking a social psychological approach Biracial in America identifies influencing factors and several underlying processes shaping multidimensional racial identities This study also investigates the ways in which biracial Americans perform race in their day to day lives One s race isn t simply something that others prescribe onto the individual but something that individuals do The strategies and motivations for performing black white and biracial identities are explored Autobiographies by Americans of Color 1980-1994 Rebecca Stuhr,1997 This bibliography provides extensive descriptive annotations of nearly 500 autobiographies published by Americans of color during the years 1980 and 1994 The authors of these narratives range from established writers such as Nikki Giovanni Maxine Hong Kingston and Richard Rodriguez to unknown writers compelled to relate their part in the civil rights movement recall their family history as sharecroppers recount experiences in the Japanese internment camps or in Indian boarding schools or describe their struggle to succeed and contribute despite immense hardship and difficulty Among these autobiographies the reader will also find those of sports celebrities actors explorers and entrepreneurs This bibliography brings together at one access point an important body of work making it possible for the reader or researcher to identify and locate these books either through booksellers or through libraries This volume constitutes volume one of a two book series volume two is titled Autobiographies by Americans of Color 1995 2000 Crossing the Line Gayle Wald, 2000-07-24 Examines constructions of racial identity through the exploration of passing narratives including Black Like Me and forties jazz musician Mezz Mezzrow's memoir Really the Blues Racial Passing Sandra Radtke, 2007-08 Thesis M A from the year 2006 in the subject American Studies Literature grade 1 0 Dresden Technical University 36 entries in the bibliography language English abstract In the following I would like to give a brief abstract of my thesis Chiefly I want to explore three major novels of the Harlem Renaissance Nella Larsen's Quicksand 1928 and Passing 1929 as well as Jessie Fauset's Plum Bun 1929 As all of them deal with racial passing this issue will be the topic of the first part in order to provide an insight into the matter The main focus will be on black to white passing which is primarily a cultural phenomenon of the United States After a definition of the term with the help of several basic typologies I would like to proceed to concomitants like secrecy the question of guilt and the white people's view on passing Subsequently the passer ought to be the focus of closer examination followed by an exploration of laws and folk beliefs evolving around the mulatto as the typical passing figure After this theoretical embedding I will take a closer look at passing in literature including an analysis of the emergence of the phenomenon as a literary genre Additionally the passing figure in literature the tragic mulatto is to be investigated Concluding a chapter on other forms of passing shall be added for the sake of completeness In the second part these theoretical cognitions are supposed to be employed to find an approach to the novels that are going to be examined with regard to the matters that evolve around passing i.e. the secrecy involved the return home and the tragic death of the heroine Juda Bennett's list of similarities among passing novels is supposed to provide a framework here Afterwards other forms of passing depicted in the novels will come to the fore including an examination of racism in connection with sexism
