Single Family Housing The Private Domain:

Single-family Housing Jaime Salazar, Manuel Gausa, 1999-01-01    Single Family Houses Rüdiger Krisch, Gert Kähler, 2005 The private single family house is still very much the preferred choice of home. Yet in recent years there have been many changes not only in the personal situations of the residents their expectations and desires but also in the rising costs of energy and raw materials. This has meant that issues such as multi functionalism the use of innovative building materials or energy efficient building methods are increasing in significance. In this completely revised and expanded second edition these topical developments have been taken into consideration. The organisation and layout of the first volume with its concise and detailed project documentation has been retained. The authors introduce floor plan solutions using contemporary projects which bear in mind changing family structures. At the same time the contributions provide an in depth introduction to planning single family houses from the design of the floor plan to useful tips for the realisation. In addition to this fundamental information 22 projects are documented providing ideas and inspiration for planners students and clients. The international selection of projects highlights current trends in planning and designing single family housing and reveals the tried and tested basics.

Creating Defensible Space Oscar Newman, 1997 The appearance of Oscar Newman's Defensible Space in 1972 signaled the establishment of a new criminological subdiscipline that has come to be called by many Crime Prevention Through Environmental Design or CPTED. Over the years Mr Newman's ideas have proven to have significant merit in helping the Nation's citizens reclaim their urban neighborhoods. This casebook will assist public private organizations with the implementation of Defensible Space theory. This monograph draws directly from Mr Newman's experience as consulting architect. Creating Defensible Space Oscar Newman, 1996

Concern over high crime rates and deteriorating inner city neighborhoods has reawakened interest in Defensible Space architect Oscar Newman's groundbreaking physical design approach to crime prevention. Creating Defensible Space written by Newman and recently published by HUD's Office of Policy Development and Research draws on Newman's experience carrying out and analyzing Defensible Space projects since the early 1970s. This publication provides an expert review of the Defensible Space concept and three step by step Case Studies to help communities redesign neighborhoods for greater safety.

The Routledge Handbook of Second Home Tourism and Mobilities C. Michael Hall, Dieter Müller, 2018-04-17 Second homes have become an increasingly important component of both tourism and housing studies. They can directly and indirectly contribute a significant number of domestic and international visitors to destinations and may be part of longer term retirement lifestyle and amenity migration that can have significant economic and social effects on communities and destination development. This volume offers an overview of different disciplinary and methodological approaches to second homes while simultaneously providing a broad geographical reach. Divided into four parts exploring governance, development, community and mobile second homes the book provides a contemporary account of the major issues in an area of growing international interest This timely handbook covers a wide range of dimensions from planning to the role of second homes in development and the management of their impact The international and cross disciplinary nature of the contributions will be of interest to numerous academic fields in the social sciences as well as urban and regional planners 1999
