Situatedness, Or, Why We Keep Saying Where We're Coming From David Simpson, 2002-01-09 A distinguished critic explores the term situatedness the self's position in time and place in the world and its treatment seen in legal theory social science literature and philosophy The Book Review Digest ,2003 U.C. Davis Law Review University of California, Davis. School of Law, 2006 David Daiches William Baker, Michael Lister, 2008 David Daiches 1912-2005 was the first Professor of English at the University of Sussex This work includes essays on his literary achievements in the areas of Scottish Literature the Novel Poetry and New Historical Criticism and the American connection and the academic as populariser by distinguished scholars and critics Discourses of Citizenship in Contemporary France Charles M. Hoffman, 2004 This dissertation examines the evolution of citizenship as a public philosophy in France since 1981 The quarter century since 1981 has been marked by increasing ethnic and religious diversity the incomplete integration of second and third generation citizens as well as their non European immigrant parents and the rise of an anti liberal response from the new right and the National Front In the 1980s a new discourse of multiculturalism and a new social movement of anti racism emerged as a consequence of these factors In France however multiculturalism and the emergence of a participatory civil society represented an unexpected challenge to French republicanism a model of citizenship initially adumbrated in the late nineteenth century in a mostly rural state facing continued monarchist and counter revolutionary forces The dissertation analyzes the challenges of deep value pluralism and late modern individualism to the French republican idea Through the discourses and analyses of social and political theorists key public intellectuals and leaders in the anti racist movement I analyze the evolution of civil society since 1981 from its problematic origins in the right to difference to the more promising new citizenship politics I explain how neo republicanism a reaffirmation of the lay republic and the French mission civilisatrice came to replace the right to difference as the dominant model of citizenship by 1989 I argue that neo republicanism is an anachronism it represents the renewal of a combative la cit designed to wage a battle against religious sentiment and premodern communities during the first half of the Third Republic a period of modernization and nation building I theorize an enlarged conception of French la cit that can harmonize a participatory multiculturalism and a democratized republicanism Drawing upon the sociological resources of the new citizenship politics I sketch a model of participatory multicultural republicanism that can successfully manage value pluralism while still providing for the enlightened moral development of citizens The successful combination of multiculturalism and republicanism sketched in the study furnishes both a contribution to comparative political theory and a modern vision of French exceptionalism
