Based on an extensive survey of more than 2000 European Studies courses in 30 European countries it maps and analyses the features of teaching methodologies as they emerge from both disciplinary as well as interdisciplinary curricula. It presents a series of case studies on some of the most used innovative teaching tools emerging in the field such as simulation games e learning problem based learning blended learning and learning through the use of social networks. Based on the contributors own experiences and academic research the book examines both strengths and possible pitfalls of these increasingly popular methods. The book's critical approach will inspire educators and scholars committed to improving the teaching methods and tools in the area of European Studies and other programmes of higher education facing similar challenges    Translating for the European Union Institutions Emma Wagner, Svend Bech, Jesús Martínez, 2014-04-23 The institutions of the European Union employ hundreds of translators. Why? What do they do? What sort of translation problems do they have to tackle? Has the language policy of the European Union been affected by the recent inclusion of new Member States? This book answers all those questions. Written by three experienced translators from the European Commission it aims to help general readers, translation students and freelance translators to understand the European Union institutions and their work. Although it deals with written rather than spoken translation much of the information it gives will be of interest to interpreters too. This second edition has been updated to reflect the new composition of the EU and changes to recruitment procedures    Cases, Materials and Text on Judicial Review of Administrative Action Chris Backes, Mariolina Eliantonio, 2019-08-08 This casebook studies the law governing judicial review of administrative action. It examines the foundations and the organisation of judicial review, the types of administrative action and corresponding kinds of review and access to court. Significant attention is also devoted to the conduct of the court proceedings, the grounds for review and the standard of review and the remedies available in judicial review cases. The relevant rules and case law of Germany, England and Wales, France and the Netherlands are analysed and compared. The similarities and differences between the legal systems are highlighted. The impact of the jurisprudence of the European Court of Human Rights is considered as well as the influence of EU legislative initiatives and the case law of the Court of Justice of the European Union in the legal systems examined. Furthermore the system of judicial review of administrative action before the European courts is studied and compared to that of the national legal systems. During the last decade the growing influence of EU law on national procedural law has been increasingly recognised. However the way in which national systems of judicial review address the requirements imposed by EU law differs substantially The casebook compares the primary sources legislation case law etc of the legal systems covered and explores their differences and similarities this examination reveals to what extent a ius commune of judicial review of administrative action is developing European Civil Service in (Times of) Crisis Didier Georgakakis,2017-08-30 This book part of the new wave of political sociology in EU studies examines the dialectics of construction deconstruction of the European civil service through a succession of empirically grounded case studies Breaking with the usual representations of Eurocrats it sheds light on a hidden aspect of the current European crisis a crisis of social reproduction which affects the European civil service in a heavy context of management reforms enlargements institutional changes and the euro crisis This in turn has a number of consequences in terms of internal tensions power and more broadly the capacity of EU institutions to create convergence between diverging national and economic interests and to embody a European future European Civil Service in Times of Crisis will be of interest to students and scholars across a wide range of disciplines including politics sociology and public administration to practitioners working in and with the EU institutions as well as those wishing to know more about the EU Management and Culture in an Enlarged European Commission C. Proceedings of the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge Jurisdiction of Alabama, Ancient Free and Accepted Masons, 1894    International Environmental Liability and Barriers to Trade Karen L. Holby, William Alexander Kerr, Jill E. Hobbs, 2007 Trade and the environment has become a major issue in international relations yet the surrounding debate remains polarised and hostile This book answers the question Can an international liability regime facilitate international trade while fostering environmental sustainability On the one hand the authors argue international trade is perceived as a major threat to environmental sustainability whilst on the other trade and the economic development arising from it is seen as the prerequisite to stronger environmental protection Nowhere is the debate more acrimonious than over trade in genetically modified organisms The Biosafety Protocol has been negotiated to govern trade in genetically modified products and includes provisions for an international liability regime to facilitate trade a subject that has been little studied This valuable study explores the role design and potential effectiveness of such a regulating body and addresses questions such as what are the options for an international environmental liability regime Why are some options unworkable Is there a set of options that will achieve the dual goals of trade facilitation and environmental protection Is international liability the best option for defusing the trade and environment debate This illuminating book will be an essential read for scholars and students senior undergraduate as well as postgraduate of international trade policy environmental economics international politics and international law Individuals working in international organizations those employed by environmental NGOs and government policy makers will also find much to engage them within this book The Efficiency and Effectiveness of the Personnel Selection Activities Carried Out by the European Personnel Selection Office : (pursuant of Article 248(4), Second Subparagraph EC) European Court of Auditors,2009 Accompanied by CD ROM containing PDF versions of the text in twenty two languages Bulgarian Czech Danish Dutch English Estonian Finnish French German Greek Hungarian Italian Latvian Lithuanian Maltese Polish Portuguese Romanian Slovak Slovenian Spanish Swedish source inconnue Annual Report ,2009
