Master s Thesis from the year 2006 in the subject Law Comparative Legal Systems Comparative Law grade 80 University of Cape Town Universit t Kapstadt 170 entries in the bibliography language English abstract This paper will explore responsibilities that might arise under international law from the privatisation of the military use of force The aim of the paper is threefold first it explores which responsibilities states and international organizations incur under international law if they use the services of Private Military Companies PMCs ie if they privatise the use of military force Second the paper will use this survey of responsibilities to address the question whether there are at present substantial gaps in international law that need to be filled in order to deal adequately with the outsourcing of military force Third the paper will then suggest how to deal with such gaps The paper will be structured as follows Part II introduces the private military industry The focus here will be on a categorization of the industry and a description of its impact on the common understanding of warfare which assumes a state monopoly on the use of force An understanding of the different categories within the industry and the industry s impact on warfare is essential for addressing the legal question of whether PMCs are sufficiently covered by the existing international laws Part III deals with the responsibility of states arising from privatising the use of force this part will first provide a brief categorization of states that might incur responsibility and then introduce as a point of departure and mental guideline the accepted rule of state responsibility whereby a state incurs responsibility for the commission of international wrongful acts. For the evaluation of a state's responsibilities, part III will then proceed to introduce states' international obligations that are most likely to be violated in connection with the privatisation of
