A. Breeze Harper

Sistah Vegan Black Female Vegans Speak On Food Identity Health And Society:

Sistah Vegan A. Breeze Harper, 2009 Sistah Vegan is not about preaching veganism or vegan fundamentalism Rather the book is about how a group of black identified female vegans perceive nutrition food ecological sustainability health and healing animal rights parenting social justice spirituality hair care race gender identification womanism and liberation that all go against the refined and bleached grain of our dysfunctional society

Afro-Dog Bénédicte Boisseron, 2018-08-14 The animal rights organization PETA asked Are Animals the New Slaves in a controversial 2005 fundraising campaign that same year after the Humane Society rescued pets in the aftermath of Hurricane Katrina while black residents were neglected some declared that white America cares more about pets than black people These are but two recent examples of a centuries long history in which black life has been pitted against animal life Does comparing human and animal suffering trivialize black pain or might the intersections of racialization and animalization shed light on interlinked forms of oppression In Afro Dog B n dicte Boisseron investigates the relationship between race and the animal in the history and culture of the Americas and the black Atlantic exposing a hegemonic system that compulsively links and opposes blackness and animality to measure the value of life She analyzes the association between black civil disobedience and canine repression a history that spans the era of slavery through the use of police dogs against protesters during the civil rights movement of the 1960s to today in places like Ferguson Missouri She also traces the lineage of blackness and the animal in Caribbean literature and struggles over minorities right to pet ownership alongside nuanced readings of Derrida and other French theorists Drawing on recent debates on black lives and animal welfare Afro Dog reframes the fast growing interest in human animal relationships by positioning blackness as a focus of animal inquiry opening new possibilities for animal studies and black studies to think side by side

Women and the Animal Rights Movement Emily Gaarder, 2011-02-19 Animal rights is one of the fastest growing social movements today Women greatly outnumber men as activists yet surprisingly little has been written about the importance and impact of gender on the movement Women and the Animal Rights Movement combats stereotypes of women activists as mere sentimentalists by exploring the political and moral character of their advocacy on behalf of animals Emily Gaarder analyzes the politics of gender in the movement incorporating in depth interviews with women and participant observation of animal rights organizations conferences and protests to describe struggles over divisions of labor and leadership Controversies over PETA advertising campaigns that rely on women s sexuality to sell animal rights illustrate how female crusaders are asked to prioritize the cause of animals above all else Gaarder underscores the importance of a paradigm shift in the animal liberation movement one that seeks a more integrated vision of animal rights that connects universally to other issues gender race economics and the environment highlighting that many women activists recognize and are motivated by the connection between the oppression of animals and other social injustices

Mapping Gendered Ecologies K. Melchor Quick Hall, Gwyn Kirk, 2021-03-04 This collection of women s racialized and gendered mappings of place people and nature includes the stories of teachers organizers activists farmers healers and gardeners From their many entry points the contributors to this work engage crucial questions of coexistence with nature in these times of overlapping climate health economic and racial crises      Brotha Vegan Adewale, Omowale,2021-03-10 Black vegan men discuss masculinity sexuality race diet health fatherhood social justice animal rights and the environment in this companion volume to Sistah Vegan In 2010 Lantern published Sistah Vegan a landmark anthology edited by A Breeze Harper that highlighted for the first time the diversity of vegan women of color s response to gender class body image feminism spirituality the environment diet and nonhuman animals Now a decade later its companion volume Brotha Vegan unpacks the lived experience of black men on veganism fatherhood politics sexuality gender health popular culture spirituality food animal advocacy the environment and the many ways that veganism is lived and expressed within the Black community in the United States Edited by Omowale Adewale founder of Black Vegfest and one of the leading voices for racial and economic justice animal rights and black solidarity Brotha Vegan includes interviews with and articles by folks such as Brooklyn Borough President Eric Adams Doc of Hip Hop is Green chef Bryant Terry physicians Anteneh Roba and Milton Mills DJ Cavem Stic of Dead Prez Kimatni Rawlins and many others At once inspiring challenging and illuminating Brotha Vegan illustrates the many ways it is possible to be vegan and reveals the leading edge of a veganized consciousness for social renewal

Critical Animal Studies John Sorenson,2014-04-21 Engaging and passionate this contemporary work provokes new ways of thinking about animal human interaction A cutting edge volume of original essays Critical Animal Studies examines our exploitation and commodification of non human animals By inquiring into the contradictions that have shaped our understanding of animals the contributors of this collection have set out to question the systemic oppression inherent in our treatment of animals The collection closes with a thoughtful consideration of some of the complexities of activism as well as a discussion of how to further the progress of animal rights Analyzing economic ethical historical and sociological aspects of human animal relations this interdisciplinary volume is a must read for all upper level students in animal studies critical animal studies animals and society and anthrozoology courses Features draws together contributions from some of the most active and committed individuals advancing the field of critical animal studies takes a revolutionary approach to mainstream animal studies by advocating for justice from a politically progressive abolitionist perspective supports curricular objectives of animal studies courses by encouraging students to critically analyze the shifting roles of animals in contemporary Western society and their consequences      Critical Animal Studies and Social Justice Amber E. George,Anthony J. Nocella

II,2022-03-03 An essential read for activists community organizers and justice scholars Critical Animal Studies and Social Justice Critical Theory Dismantling Speciesism and Total Liberation is a collection that combines scholarship and activism in nine ground breaking and provocative chapters The book includes contributions from around the world influenced by critical theory feminism social justice political theory media studies environmental justice food justice disability studies and Black liberation By promoting total liberation and liberatory politics these essays challenge the reader to think about new approaches to justice equity diversity and inclusion The contributors examine and disrupt many of the exclusionary assumptions and behaviors by those working toward justice and liberation encouraging the reader to reflect on their own thoughts and actions

Decolonizing Our Plates Marilisa Cristina Navarro, 2011 This project focuses on discursive formations of race gender class and sexuality within food justice movements as well as these discursive formations within veganism In particular I analyze how mainstream food justice movements in San Diego engage in discourses of colorblindness universalism individualism whiteness and consumption I also examine how these movements are centered on possessive individualism or one's capacity to own private property as the means through which they seek and obtain liberation Through my participant observation at several San Diego food justice events I demonstrate that these movements often discursively exclude communities of color and poor communities as its subjects In addition I analyze four vegan of color sites the song Be Healthy by the hip hop group Dead Prez eco chef Bryant Terry's cookbook Vegan Soul Food the Vegans of Color blog and an anthology entitled Sistah Vegan Black Female Vegans Speak on Food Identity Health and Society Through a cultural studies analysis I explore the ways in which these sites engage a decolonial anti oppressive framework to guide their vegan politics In this project I seek to contribute to the works of those who have written about the relationship between race class gender and space as well as the fields of food studies and ethnic studies through a critique of food justice movements reproduction of common sense logics about subjecthood and difference as well as decolonial possibilities within veganism
