The Glocalization of Shanghai Disneyland Ni-Chen Sung, 2021-04-11

Focusing on Disney's production of Shanghai Disneyland this book examines how the Chinese state and the local market influence Disney's ownership and production of the identities and the representations of Shanghai Disneyland. Qualitative methods are here applied to combine both primary and secondary data including document analysis, participant observation and in depth interviews. Shanghai Disneyland is purposely created to be different from the other Disneylands under the authentically Disney and distinctly Chinese mandate. In order to survive and thrive in China Disney carefully constructs Shanghai Disneyland as Disneyland with Chinese characteristics. Previous studies tend to link Disney with cultural imperialism however this book argues that it is not imperialism but glocalization that promotes a global company's interests in China. In particular the findings suggest state capital led glocalization glocalization led by economic capital of the state direct investment and economic capital with the state market potential. Furthermore the four categories of glocalization with different conditions considerations and consequences illustrate various global local dynamics in the process of a global formation of locality. The Glocalization of Shanghai Disneyland will appeal to students and scholars of sociology, communication studies, business studies and Asian studies more broadly
