Good Meal Prep Ideas For Beginners and Dummies Barbara Dawson, 2020-08-18 Meal prepping is making a meal or recipe then portioning it out to grab and go meals for later If you've ever kept your leftovers from dinner to take with you for lunch then next time you've made a mini meal prepped Good Meal Prepping though meal prepping refers to making 3-7 days worth of food at a time Think of it like making your lunches for the week all at once instead of making your lunch every day You can use this same technique for breakfast lunch dinner and snacks Meal prepping isn't a waste of time and it's not outside your plan or budget When making your meal plan for the week, ask yourself the question: "How many meals can I eat without having to cook each day?" Meal prepping is not for everyone It is good for people who value convenience and efficiency more than variety With meal prepping you can eat the same thing for a few days in a row so you don't have to deal with leftovers or get bored with food Meal prepping is not for everyone If you're not maximizing your time or budget is more valuable than eating something different every day, meal prepping is not for you Generally, meal prepping is seen as a meal for one or maybe one other person and a whole meal would be quite difficult but if you're meal prepping for a whole family, it would be a challenge If food is stored in the refrigerator for a long time, it can lose its flavor and texture In addition to the way food is packed, the individual nuances of your refrigerator can impact the flavor of refrigerated meals The flavor is not acceptable if the texture is not good Always begin with the FDA's guidelines for food storage and follow your own preferences In general, it's better to eat food that's fresh than food that's been in the refrigerator for a long time I find that food that's been in the refrigerator for a long time is not as good as food that's been in the refrigerator for a short time
