Nansen, 1897 In September of 1893 Norwegian zoologist Fridtjof Nansen and a crew manned the schooner Fram intending to drift frozen in the Arctic pack ice to the North Pole. When it became clear that they would miss the pole Nansen and his companion Hjalmar Johansen struck off by themselves. Racing the shrinking pack ice they attempted by dog sled to go farthest north. They survived a winter in a moss hut eating walruses and polar bears and the public assumed they were dead. In the spring of 1896 after three years of trekking and having made it to within four degrees of the pole they returned to safety. Nansen's narrative stands with the best writing on polar exploration.
