The Milk Lady of Bangalore Shoba Narayan,2018-01-23 The elevator door opens A cow stands inside angled diagonally to fit It doesn't look uncomfortable merely impatient It is for the housewarming ceremony on the third floor explains the woman who stands behind the cow holding it loosely with a rope She has the sheepish look of a person caught in a strange situation who is trying to act as normal as possible She introduces herself as Sarala and smiles reassuringly The door closes I shake my head and suppress a grin It is good to be back When Shoba Narayan who has just returned to India with her husband and two daughters after years in the United States asks whether said cow might bless her apartment next it is the beginning of a beautiful friendship between our author and Sarala who also sells fresh milk right across the street from that thoroughly modern apartment building The two women connect over not only cows but also family food and life When Shoba agrees to buy Sarala a new cow they set off looking for just the right heifer and what was at first a simple economic transaction becomes something much deeper though never without a hint of slapstick The Milk Lady of Bangalore immerses us in the culture customs myths religion sights and sounds of a city in which the twenty first century and the ancient past coexist like nowhere else in the world It's a true story of bridging divides of understanding other ways of looking at the world and of human connections and animal connections and it's an irresistible adventure of two strong women and the animals they love
