Ding,Wenzhi Wang,Patrick Kwan,2020-06-04 Neuroepidemiology is a branch of epidemiology involving the study of neurological disease distribution and determinants of frequency in human populations Neuroepidemiology has been perceived for a long time as a science of incidence prevalence risk factors natural history and prognosis of neurological disorders However the other integral part of neuroepidemiology is experimental neuroepidemiology which is research based on clinical trials of effectiveness or efficacy of various interventions in neurological disorders Neuroepidemiological researches have been conducted since 1960 s with the development of epidemiological methodology and advance of the clinical neurology Most improvement of neuroepidemiology was in western countries largely in US and European countries This study field has been developed quite late in resourcelimited areas where 60% of world s populations are living in Disease burden of neurological disorders such as stroke epilepsy migraine neurodegenerated diseases AD PD multiple sclerosis MS amyotrophic lateral sclerosis ALS are extremely heavy in low and middle income countries LAMICs especially with the increasing aging population in these regions Because of their progressive and disabling nature these neurological disorders have major adverse personal social and economic consequences Prevention and early detection are critical because there are no cures and the clinical diagnosis typically occurs after substantial and often irreversible neuronal loss

Real-World Data and Real-World Evidence in Lung Cancer Valerio Gristina ,Chukwuka Eze,2024-06-14 Lung cancer is still one of the most common malignancies with a high global mortality rate with over 2 million cases confirmed by the World Health Organization in 2018 Although there has been progress in diagnosing and treating lung cancer patients still have poor prognosis with a 5 year survival rate typically from 4 17% which is dependent on the stage of the cancer and regional differences The majority of lung cancer patients are at the advanced stages of the disease at the time of their diagnosis and therefore have less chances of early treatment that could have improved their survival rate Therefore early detection of lung cancer remains imperative to improve the prognosis Oncology of CNS Tumors Jörg-Christian Tonn,David A.

Reardon,James T. Rutka,Manfred Westphal,2019-05-31 This book is an easy to use reference that provides ready guidance on the diagnosis and treatment of the full range of tumors of the central nervous system in adults and children The new edition has been completely revised to reflect the continually evolving landscape of neuro oncology and provide readers with a thorough update that will inform their clinical practice Since the previous edition molecular neuropathology has progressed considerably leading to a new understanding of specific clinical entities with corresponding changes in treatment concepts Moreover tumor biology has become better integrated with clinical neuro oncology in truly translational efforts These advances receive detailed attention In addition the structure of the book has been adapted to align with the revised 2016 version of the WHO Brain Tumor Classification Once again the contributors have been carefully selected as leading experts in the field Oncology of CNS Tumors is already established as a widely used reference and this new edition will provide optimal value for highly specialized comprehensive neuro oncology centers as well as practicing clinicians and researchers
