

Oncology Infusion Coding: A Guide for Oncology Providers

administration, the duration of the infusion, and any adverse reactions or side effects. This documentation should be included in the patient's medical record.

- Understand the rules for multiple infusions. When a patient receives multiple infusions during the same visit, it's important to understand the rules for billing and coding these infusions. Depending on the type of infusion and the length of time it takes, multiple infusions may need to be billed separately or bundled together.
- Keep up-to-date with coding changes. The coding and billing rules for oncology infusion therapy are constantly evolving, so it's important for healthcare providers to stay up-to-date with changes to the coding systems and rules. This can be done through attending coding and billing seminars, reading industry publications, and consulting with coding experts.
- Work with coding experts. Given the complexity of oncology infusion coding, it's often beneficial for oncology healthcare providers to work with coding experts. These experts can help providers navigate the coding and billing rules, ensure proper documentation, and maximize reimbursement.

Kantarjian,Robert A. Wolff,Charles A. Anderson's multidisciplinary approach to cancer care. Furthermore, while evidence-based rationales are given for patient care strategies, no apologies are offered for articulating the unique perspectives and biases as they apply to cancer biology and therapy as practiced at this top-rated cancer center. The rationales for ongoing clinical trials are clearly articulated, as well as the importance of ongoing clinical investigation. The authors have filled the book with tables, graphics, relevant pathology figures, and other illustrative images, making it visually stimulating. Flowchart and diagrammatic algorithms are supplied to provide readers with a practical guide to the diagnostic and therapeutic strategies used at MD Anderson. Numerous chapters address important palliative and supportive measures such as oncologic emergencies, infections, endocrine manifestations of non-endocrine tumors, palliation, and long-term followup.
