Engaging Affects, Thinking Feelings Susan Driver, Melanie Patenaude, Kara Stone, 2016-06-22 The thought provoking essays brought together in Engaging Affects Thinking Feelings Social Political and Artistic Practices balance critical thinking with creative opportunities to imagine new possibilities With an international breadth that crosses continents and an interdisciplinary orientation that connects diverse scholarly fields this collection is ambitious in its scope At the same time the essays focus on the small details embodied traces and intimate spaces of experience often overlooked or devalued within dominant discourses Exploring diverse issues and methodologies the contributions here share a willingness to pay close attention to vulnerable subjects that challenge readers to think beyond the rational and binary limits of academic knowledge As such the authors simultaneously engage readers intellects and emotions as they write passionately about subjects ranging from war food sexuality geography social media poetry photography and philosophy The result is a text that offers diverse ways of mobilizing an array of affect theories in relation to specific sites of interpretation activism and creativity

On the Logics of Planetary Computing Marc Böhlen, 2024-11-29 A new breed of low Earth orbit satellites is making planetary scale observation and analysis ubiquitous This book explores how this condition feeds spatially explicit artificial intelligence GeoAI in redefining the study of landscapes and how it impacts one particular land dispute in the Alas Mertajati in Central Bali Indonesia This book combines scholarship from the humanities and engineering to forge a novel way of presenting planetary computing in its GeoAI vernacular From data collection to model evaluation the book describes how multi spectral high resolution satellite data and machine learning algorithms respond to uncommon land cover conditions including sustainable land care practices such as agroforestry while contextualizing the operations within science and media studies Together with the installation logics of geoai.org this book offers full spectrum immersion into the unstable nexus of geography and artificial intelligence This book will be of interest to any experimental artist social scientist curious AI engineer or a free range scholar It will likewise appeal to students and scholars of science technology studies media studies geography and ethnography Making Maps, Third Edition John Krygier, Denis Wood, 2016-08-02 Using a wealth of illustrations with 74 in full color to elucidate each concisely presented point the revised and updated third edition continues to emphasize how design choices relate to the reasons for making a map and its intended purpose All components of map making are covered titles labels legends visual hierarchy font selection how to turn phenomena into visual data data organization symbolization and more Back cover Creative Representations of Place Alison Barnes, 2018-07-11 Cultural geography and the social sciences have seen a rise in the use of creative methods with which to understand and represent everyday life and place Conversely many artists are producing work that centres on ideas of place and space and utilising empirical research methods that have a resonance with geographers This book contributes to the body of literature emerging from such creative approaches to place Drawing together theory and practice from cultural geography anthropology and graphic design this book proposes an interdisciplinary geo graphic process for interrogating and re presenting everyday life and place A diverse set of research projects highlights participatory and autoethnographic approaches to the research The sites of the projects are varied encompassing the commercial space of grocery shops cafés and restaurants the private domestic space of the home and a Scottish World Heritage site The theoretical context of each project highlights the transferability of the geo graphic process with place being variously framed within discussions of food multi culturalism and belonging home collecting and meaningful possessions and materiality memory and affect Themes in the book will appeal to researchers working in the creative methods field This book will also be essential supplementary reading for postgraduate students studying Cultural Geography Experimental Geographies Visual Anthropology Art and Design Making Maps John Krygier, Denis Wood, 2016-06-27 This book has been replaced by Making Maps Fourth Edition ISBN 978 1 4625 5606 9 Introducing Human Geographies Paul Cloke, Philip Crang, Mark Goodwin, 2013-12-05 Introducing Human Geographies is the leading guide to human geography for undergraduate students explaining new thinking on essential topics and discussing exciting developments in the field This new edition has been thoroughly revised and updated and coverage is extended with new sections devoted to biogeographies cartographies mobilities non representational geographies population geographies public geographies and securities Presented in three parts with 60 contributions written by expert international researchers this text addresses the central ideas through which human geographers understand and shape their subject Part I Foundations engages students with key ideas that define human geography's subject matter and approaches through critical analyses of dualisms such as local/global, society/space and human/nonhuman. Part II Themes explores human geography's main sub-disciplines with sections devoted to biogeographies, cartographies, cultural geographies, development geographies, economic geographies, environmental geographies, historical geographies, political geographies, population geographies, social geographies, urban and rural geographies. Finally, Part III Horizons assesses the latest research in innovative areas from mobilities and securities to non-representational geographies. This comprehensive, stimulating and cutting-edge introduction to the field is richly illustrated throughout with full-colour figures, maps and photos. These are available to download on the companion website located at www.routledge.com/9781444135350. Roman Empire Sven Günther, 2025-05-19 The Roman Empire is the paradigmatic empire of world history. Its rise, stability and prosperity but also decline and fall has impressed and fascinated people around the world and throughout times. The book, written by eminent scholars of the field, brings the features, structures and powers of this empire to light and comprehensively presents the subject with a global perspective. Mapping Multiple Perspectives Rolland G. Paulston, 1996 Rethinking Maps Martin Dodge, 2011-06-02 Rethinking Maps brings together leading researchers to explore how maps are being rethought, made and used and what these changes mean. Classics in Cartography Martin Dodge, 2011-01-25 Classics in Cartography provides an intellectually driven reinterpretation of a selection of ten touchstone articles in the development of mapping scholarship over the last four decades. The classics are drawn exclusively from the international peer-review journal Cartographica and are reprinted in full here. They are accompanied by newly commissioned reflective essays by the original article authors and other eminent scholars to provide fresh interpretation of the meaning of the ideas presented and their wider lasting impact on cartographic research. The book provides an equal balance of influential articles from the past and current commentaries which highlight their impact and current context. Read in combination, the original classic articles and these new reflective essays demonstrate how cartography works as a powerful representational form and explores how various different aspects of mapping practice have been conceptualized by an influential set of academic researchers. Collates classic articles from four decades of the journal Cartographica. Brings key articles up to date with contemporary interpretative essays by the leading scholars in mapping research. Themes covered are the epistemological of mapping practice, the ontological underpinnings of cartographic representation and the contested societal implications of maps. Evaluates the progression of the field of cartographic research and demonstrates how new theoretical ideas originate, develop and circulate. Provides a signpost for students and new researchers on the key articles in cartography to read and reflect upon. Object-oriented Cartography Tania Rossetto, 2019 Object-oriented Cartography provides an innovative perspective on the changing nature of maps and cartographic study. Through a renewed theoretical reading of contemporary cartography, this book acknowledges the shifted interest from cartographic representation to mapping practice and proposes an alternative consideration of the thingness of maps. Rather than asking how maps map onto reality, it explores the possibilities of a speculative realist map theory by bringing cartographic objects to the foreground Through a pragmatic perspective this book focuses on both digital and nondigital maps and establishes an unprecedented dialogue between the field of map studies and object oriented ontology This dialogue is carried out through a series of reflections and case studies involving aesthetics and technology ethnography and image theory and narrative and photography Proposing methods to further develop this kind of cartographic research this book will be invaluable reading for researchers and graduate students in the fields of Cartography and Geohumanities

Literature and Cartography Anders

Engberg-Pedersen,2017-11-24 The relationship of texts and maps and the mappability of literature examined from Homer to Houellebecq Literary authors have frequently called on elements of cartography to ground fictional space to visualize sites and to help readers get their bearings in the imaginative world of the text Today the convergence of digital mapping and globalization has spurred a cartographic turn in literature This book gathers leading scholars to consider the relationship of literature and cartography Generously illustrated with full color maps and visualizations it offers the first systematic overview of an emerging approach to the study of literature The literary map is not merely an illustrative guide but represents a set of relations and tensions that raise questions about representation fiction and space Is literature even mappable In exploring the cartographic components of literature the contributors have not only brought literary theory to bear on the map but have also enriched the vocabulary and perspectives of literary studies with cartographic terms After establishing the theoretical and methodological terrain they trace important developments in the history of literary cartography considering topics that include Homer and Joyce Goethe and the representation of nature and African cartographies Finally they consider cartographic genres that reveal the broader connections between texts and maps discussing literary map genres in American literature and the coexistence of image and text in early maps When cartographic aspirations outstripped factual knowledge mapmakers turned to textual fictions Contributors Jean Marc Besse Bruno Bosteels Patrick M Bray Martin Br ckner Tom Conley J rg D nne Anders Engberg Pedersen John K Noyes Ricardo Padr n Barbara Piatti Simone Pinet Clara Rowland Oliver Simons Robert Stockhammer Dominic Thomas Burkhardt Wolf

Edney, 2019-04-12

In his most ambitious work to date Edney questions the very concept of cartography to argue that this flawed ideal has hobbled the study of maps Susan Schulten author of A History of America in 100 Maps Over the past four decades the volumes published in the landmark History of Cartography series have both chronicled and encouraged scholarship about maps and mapping practices across time and space As the current director of the project that has produced these volumes Matthew H Edney has a unique vantage point for understanding what cartography has come to mean and include In this book Edney disavows the term cartography rejecting the notion that maps represent an undifferentiated category of objects for study Rather than treating maps as a single unified group he argues scholars need to take a processual approach that examines specific types of maps sea charts versus thematic maps for example in the context of the unique circumstances of their production circulation and consumption To illuminate this bold argument Edney chronicles precisely how the ideal of cartography that has developed in the West since 1800 has gone astray By exposing the flaws in this ideal his book challenges everyone who studies maps and mapping practices to reexamine their approach to the topic The study of cartography will never be the same An intellectually bracing and marvellously provocative account of how the mythical ideal of cartography developed over time and in the process distorted our understanding of maps Times Higher Education

Cartography The Ideal and Its History offers both a sharp critique of current practice and a call to reorient the field of map studies A landmark contribution K ren Wigen coeditor of Time in Maps The Routledge Handbook of Mapping and Cartography Alexander Kent, Peter Vujakovic, 2017-10-04 This new Handbook unites cartographic theory and praxis with the principles of cartographic design and their application It offers a critical appraisal of the current state of the art science and technology of map making in a convenient and well illustrated guide that will appeal to an international and multi disciplinary audience No single volume work in the field is comparable in terms of its accessibility currency and scope The Routledge Handbook of Mapping and Cartography draws on the wealth of new scholarship and practice in this emerging field from the latest conceptual developments in mapping and advances in map making technology to reflections on the role of maps in society It brings together 43 engaging chapters on a diverse range of topics including the history of cartography map use and user issues cartographic design remote sensing volunteered geographic information VGI and map art The title's expert contributions are drawn from an international base of influential academics and leading practitioners with a view to informing theoretical development and best practice This new volume will provide the reader with an exceptionally wide ranging introduction to mapping and cartography and aim to inspire further engagement within this dynamic and exciting field The Routledge Handbook of Mapping and Cartography offers a unique reference point that will be of great interest and practical use to all map makers and students of geographic information science geography cultural studies and a range of related disciplines

Time for mapping Sybille Lammes, Chris Perkins, Alex Gekker, Sam Hind, Clancy Wilmott, Daniel Evans, 2018-06-29 Maps take place in time as well as representing space The Google map on your smartphone appears to fix the world serving as a practical spatial tool but in practice is deployed in ways that draw attention to memories rhythm synchronicity sequence and duration This interdisciplinary collection focuses on how these temporal aspects of mapping might be understood at a time when mapping technologies have been profoundly changed by digital developments It contrasts different aspects of this temporality bringing together experts from critical cartography media studies and science and technology studies Together the chapters offer a unique interdisciplinary focus revealing the complex and social ways in which time is wrapped up with digital technologies and revealed in everyday mapping tasks from navigating across cities to serving as scientific groundings for news stories from managing smart cities to visual art practice It brings time back into the map An electronic edition of this book is freely available under a Creative Commons CC BY NC ND licence
