Nurse Memoirs from the Great War in Britain, France, and Germany Jerry Palmer,2021-10-19

Nurse Memoirs from the Great War in Britain France and Germany examines an understudied corpus of memoirs in English French and German stemming from the unprecedented involvement of women in the war effort Jerry Palmer considers the memoirs in relationship to public opinion collective memory and other women s writing about the war Through close readings of the memoirs and their contexts the book identifies themes present in the texts and considers the nurse memoir as rhetoric examining to what extent the texts are promoting or countering arguments in the public sphere about their involvement or more widely about women s position in society Palmer explores the multiple contexts related to the nurse memoirs including public response to volunteer wartime nursing the organisation of the military health services of the three nations and their conduct in the war and changes in the post war organization of public health services and the professionalization of nursing

Hearst's International Combined with Cosmopolitan ,1929      World War One Lawrence Sondhaus,2020-10-29

Commemorative Modernisms Kelly Alice Kelly,2020-07-06 Reconsiders the relationship between the Great War and modernism through women's literary representations of death. Provides the first sustained study of death and commemoration in women's literature in the wartime and postwar period. Offers a reconsideration of the relationship between the First World War and literary modernism through the lens of women's writing. Considers the literary impact of the vast mortality of the First World War and the culture of war commemoration on British and American women's writing. One of the key questions of modern literature was the problem of what to do with the war dead. Through a series of case studies focusing on nurse narratives Edith Wharton, Katherine Mansfield, H.D. and Virginia Woolf as well as visual and material culture this book provides the first sustained study of women's literary representations of death and the culture of war commemoration that underlie British and American literary modernism. Considering previously neglected writing by women in the war zones and at home as well as the marginalised writings of well known modernist authors and drawing on international archival research this book demonstrates the intertwining of modernist war and memorial culture and broadens the canon of war writing.
