Sustaining Forests A Development Strategy:

Sustaining Forests World Bank,2004-05-01 The World Bank's Forests Strategy adopted in October 2002 charts a path for the Bank's proactive engagement in the sector to help attain the goal of poverty reduction without jeopardizing the environmental values intrinsic to sustainability This strategy replaces the Bank's 1991 Forestry Strategy and was developed on the basis of the findings of an independent review of the 1991 strategy and a two year consultative process with development partners and stakeholders around the world The revised strategy Sustaining Forests is built on three guiding pillars harnessing the potential of forests to reduce poverty integrating forests into sustainable economic development and protecting global forest values Recognizing the key role forests play in contributing to the livelihoods of people living in extreme poverty government and local ownership of forest policies and interventions are emphasized along with the development of appropriate institutions to ensure good governance and the mainstreaming of forests into national development planning The strategy also aims to support ecologically socially and economically sound management of production forests by ensuring good management practices through application of safeguard procedures and independent monitoring and certification Implementation of the strategy will center on building and strengthening partnerships with the private sector non governmental organizations and other donor agencies to promote better forest conservation and management at country and global levels

Sustaining Forests ,2004 Forests Sourcebook World Bank,2008-04-25 The Forests Sourcebook provides practical operations oriented guidance for forest sector engagement toward the goals of poverty reduction conservation and economic development Intended to guide World Bank lending activities and projects the Forests Sourcebook offers information useful to a broad audience of practitioners government agencies and non governmental organizations The Sourcebook was developed in partnership with members of the Collaborative Partnership on Forests including the Food and Agriculture Organization The Sourcebook provides background on key issues lessons learned and recommendations for practitioners on a number of topics including private sector engagement forest governance sustainable plantation and commercial harvesting and forest information management systems Giving insight into the complex interplay between different realms of development work that effect or are affected by forests the Forests Sourcebook is a valuable tool for any stakeholder involved in development or business projects that could have impact on forests

Sustaining Forests World Bank,2004 Annotation Recognizing the key role forests play in contributing to the livelihoods of people living in extreme poverty this title emphasizes the development of appropriate institutions to ensure good governance and the mainstreaming of forests into national development planning

Sustaining Indonesia's Forests ,2006 Forest Strategy Michael Gane,2007-06-28

In the past lack of understanding at the nexus between the forest sector on the one hand and strategic management on the other has led to failures in many countries to realise the potential that forest sector development offers This important new book adopts a more holistic approach to propose a new theoretical framework for this once traditional sector one which reconciles current thinking in strategic management with natural resource management The book will provide a valuable resource for both forestry professionals particularly those in managerial positions in government departments and forest services throughout the world and for advanced students and researchers exploring the issues around forest sector administration The latter will include researchers from a range of backgrounds including forestry ecology geography conservation rural development economics forest or environmental policy social studies and public affairs and will be of particular interest to groups adopting an interdisciplinary approach to forestry issues

Vietnam Forestry Development Strategy Trieu, V.H.,Pham, T.T.,Đào Thị, L.C.,2020-12-18 The Vietnam Forestry Development Strategy VFDS is one of the country's most important plans for the forestry sector The strategic directions objectives and solutions within it differ from time to time depending on the political goals and perspectives of the moment as well as the role that the forestry sector plays in Vietnam's overall socio economic development Regardless of such changes inheriting lessons learned developing the next strategy off the back of the experience gained from solving previous challenges and taking advantage of opportunities are always the top priorities of the Government of Vietnam This report is the result of a collaboration between the Center for International Forestry Research CIFOR and the Vietnam Administration of Forestry VNFOREST it is intended to provide VNFOREST with input as they develop the new strategy Based on secondary document research and stakeholder interviews the report reviews achievements and challenges in the implementation of VFDS 2006 2020 as well as provides recommendations for policy makers to consider in the process of developing the new strategy Research results show that by 2020 Vietnam had exceeded a number of the goals set out in VFDS 2006 2020 including i accelerating the growth of production value in the sector ii increasing the export value of wood and forest products iii increasing domestic wood production and iv planting protection forest PTF and special use forests SUF However the forestry sector still faces many challenges when it comes to other key performance indicators such as i increasing the area of production forests PDF with certification of sustainable forest management SFM ii increasing large diameter timber production iii increasing revenue for forest environmental services FES iv securing forest and forest land for the purposes of allocation and leases v reducing the number of poor households in forestry areas and vi increasing the rate at which forestry workers are trained Although some anticipated targets were not achieved others were exceeded for example forest cover reforestation after logging reduction of forest protection violations and scattered tree planting That these goals were achieved or exceeded is the result of strong political commitment policies trend matching the market improvements in central and local management capacity the active support of international donors and the involvement of civil society and the private sector That some targets were not achieved is due to the challenges of implementing policy effectively efficiently and equitably at grassroots level lack of resources and funding and some ambitious goals and targets not being realistic in the current economic political and market contexts Addressing these challenges requires a new approach and more effective economic social and technical solutions Development of VFDS 2021 2030 and the 2050 vision needs to consider the implementation achievements and challenges of the previous policy as well as how to align with global trends and balance these with the current political economic and social development context in Vietnam The direction of the new strategy must also be considered in the context of international requirements to facilitate the mobilization of domestic and foreign financial resources to help modernize the industry as well as enhance the forestry sector's role and value in terms of poverty reduction sustainable economic development and ensuring sustainable forest ecosystems National Report on Sustainable Forests -- 2011 Guy Robertson, 2012-10-07 Sustainable Developmental Strategy Surya Pal Shukla, Nandeshwar Sharma, 1996 Papers presented at a seminar on sustainable agriculture chiefly with reference to India and partly to Arunachal Pradesh Parliamentary Assembly Documents 2002 Ordinary Session (First Part) , Volume I Council of Europe, Economic Aspects of Community Involvement in Sustainable Forest Management in Eastern and Southern Africa , 2001 Examines whether forest management regimes in the region have actually provided communities with sufficient economic benefits to make them willing and able to conserve and to use sustainable forest resources in the course of their production and consumption activities A Research Strategy for Sustainable Forest Management in Europe Folke Andersson, 2005 World Forests, Markets and Policies Matti Palo, J. Uusivuori, G. Mery, 2012-12-06 In the 1990s the world community has arrived at a particularly in developing countries and in economic historical turning point Global issues the decline in biodiversity in transition These three organizations have of biological diversity climate change the fate of different backgrounds and focuses but have found forest peoples fresh water scarcity desertification it relevant and rewarding to their core operations to deforestation and forest degradation have come collaborate in WFSE activities The intention of to dominate the public and political debate about these organizations is to continue supporting the forestry In the economic sphere forest industries WFSE research and developing the mutual collaboration have assumed global dimensions oration The World Forests Society and Environment In the year 2000 WFSE took on a new challenge Research Program WFSE is a response by the re extending its research network to involve five new research community to this globalization The WFSE Associate Partners the Center for International slogan Globalization calls for global research re Forestry Research CIFOR in Indonesia the Center reflects both the means and the end of the program for Research and Higher Education on Natural The program is involved in promoting and executing Resources of Tropical America CATIE in Costa Rica research in different parts of the world and Rica the International Center for Research in Agro through its publications and communications net Forestry ICRAF in Kenya the World Forestry work linking researchers worldwide

Policy Integration for Complex Environmental Problems Helen Briassoulis, 2017-07-05 The quest for policy integration crystallized in the 1990s as awareness was growing that the current supply of narrow sectoral and little coordinated or even overlapping and conflicting policies could not cope efficiently and effectively with contemporary complex cross cutting and interdependent socio environmental problems Combining and coordinating policies properly promises to address this institutional misfit add value to policies support planning at national and sub national levels and facilitate the transition to sustainable development more generally This book proposes a comprehensive conceptualization of policy integration and negotiates pertinent theoretical methodological and applied issues from the perspective of selected EU policies rural development regional development transport social economic environmental water resources and biodiversity policy Mediterranean desertification an exceptionally complex socio environmental problem is used as an illustrative example as the idea for this book transpired while researching the topic of policy making to combat desertification in the context of MEDACTION an EU funded research project

The State of the World's Forests 2018 Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2018-07-06 Nearly three years ago world leaders agreed to the United Nations 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development and its 17 Sustainable Development Goals SDGs the central framework for guiding development policies throughout the world This edition of The State of the World's Forests is aimed at enhancing our understanding of how forests and their sustainable management contribute to achieving several of the SDGs Time is running out for the world's forests we need to work across sectors bring stakeholders together and take urgent action The State of the World's Forests 2018 identifies actions that can be taken to increase the contributions of forests and trees that are necessary to accelerate progress towards the SDGs It is now critical that steps be taken to work more effectively with the private sector and the informal forest sector must be transformed in order to bring broader economic social and environmental benefits Seventy years ago when FAO completed its first assessment of the world's forest resources the major concern was whether there would be enough timber to supply global demand now we recognize the greater global relevance of our forests and trees For the first time The State of the World's Forests 2018 provides an assessment of the contribution of forests and trees to our landscapes and livelihoods The purpose of this publication is to provide a much wider audience with an understanding of why forests and trees matter for people the planet and posterity

Legislative approaches to sustainable agriculture and natural resources governance Gobena, A., 2020-05-01 This book encompasses a broad range of natural resource sectors with discrete chapters on water land forestry fisheries mining petroleum and agriculture Given this broad range of areas the focus of the publication is narrowed to provide an overarching holistic perspective that is supportive of a systems thinking approach Recognizing that there are many useful publications elsewhere that detail extensively the specific regulatory elements of sound laws in the respective areas this book offers the specific prism of highlighting approaches that embrace the pillars of sustainable development i.e. approaches that recognize and are informed by economic social and environmental considerations and impacts
