Intensifying Classroom Routines in Reading and Writing Programs Michael P. Ford, 2017-06-15 Three common routines are seen in almost every primary language arts programs morning messages shared readings and word walls These routines should be integrated to support the total language arts program but are teachers of grades K 2 getting the most bang for their buck out of these activities Morning messages can become very routinized and repeat the same experiences over and over again Shared readings are sometimes conducted with little variation in spite of changing demands from the texts being used and changing needs in the learners with whom they are being used Word walls might be put up with some attention early in the year and remain virtually unchanged as the year moves forward Intensifying Classroom Routines in Reading and Writing Programs focuses on how teachers can get more instructional mileage out of these three common classroom routines Author Michael P Ford lays out step by step day by day plans to put those three key routines on a cycle that changes as students move through developmental phases This resource helps teachers plan for emergent and early readers and writers It also looks at how teachers can assist students as they move through critical areas including concepts of print alphabetic knowledge phonological awareness sound symbol relationships high frequency words structural analysis context clues comprehension strategies and composition strategies With these intensified routines in place students will clearly see connections between reading and writing

Raising Readers at Home Sheila E. Sapp, 2023-07-31 This book consists of an easy to follow plan designed to guide and assist parents in nurturing and developing pre reading pre literacy skills needed to learn how to read Parents caregivers begin their journey by examining and exploring why some children have difficulty learning to read It is also noted the role they can play in preparing their children for the learning to read process at home They are guided through the development of pre reading milestones and behavior characteristics of young children Additionally parents caregivers complete a self assessment to determine their thoughts about learning which is important in setting up a creative and vibrant learning environment for their home Before addressing the four components of the reading process parents caregivers are guided in setting the stage for learning to reading their home by establishing a print rich environment
