studies communications social media and political science On Value and Valuation John Frow,2025-11-14 On Value and Valuation asks whether the category of economic value remains theoretically viable how value is formed and how it should be understood It explores the interlinkages between economic value and social and cultural values On the one hand the book draws on anthropological and sociological accounts of the evaluative frameworks within which things take on their social meanings on the other it explores and critiques the Marxist account of the formation of value in capitalist production Its aim is to reconcile these two conceptions and it does so by arguing that economic value is not a property of goods and services but is formed in specific institutions of valuation It analyses new sources of value generated in markets in derivatives in carbon credits and ecosystem services in expert systems and in new digital entities and seeks to deepen our understanding of value as a force driven by a web of social relations of accumulation that channel power and coercion This book will be of interest to students of heterodox economics and Marxist theory as well as to those with a wider concern with questions of social and economic value
