Menze,2023-03-15 Patriarch Dioscorus of Alexandria The Last Pharaoh of Alexandria and Ecclesiastical Politics in the Later Roman Empire offers a thorough revision of the historical role of Dioscorus as patriarch of Alexandria between 444 and 451 CE One of the major protagonists of the Christological controversy Dioscorus was hailed a saint in Eastern Church traditions which opposed the Council of Chalcedon in 451 Yet Western Church traditions remember him as a heretic and violent villain and much scholarship maintains this image of Dioscorus as ruthless and ambitious a tyrant bishop feared by his opponents the Attila of the Eastern Church This book breaks with these negative stereotypes and offers the first serious historical analysis of Dioscorus as ecclesiastical politician and reformer It discusses the discrepancy that theologically Dioscorus was a loyal follower of his famous predecessor Cyril of Alexandria 412-444 while politically he was the leading figure of the anti Cyrilian party in Alexandria Analysing Dioscorus role as president of the Second Council of Ephesus in 449 and his downfall and deposition at the Council of Chalcedon in 451 Menze also offers a much needed new reading of the acts of these two general councils Reappraising the life and role of Dioscorus ultimately shows how the Christological controversy of the fifth century can only be fully understood against the background of imperial politics and its mechanisms for implementing Orthodoxy in the Later Roman Empire Asceticism and Christological Controversy in Fifth-Century Palestine Cornelia B. Horn, 2006-03-09 The Life of Peter the Iberian by John Rufus records the ascetic struggle of a fifth century anti Chalcedonian bishop of Mayyuma Palestine Cornelia Horn presents a historical critical study of the only substantial anti Chalcedonian witness to the history of the conflict in Palestine and analyses the formative period of fifth century anti Chalcedonian hierarchy theology and its ascetic expression Important themes are pilgrimage as an ascetic ideal and asceticism as source of theological authority Archaeological data on many places in the Levant and textual sources in Syriac Coptic Greek Armenian and Georgian are examined This book contributes to our understanding of the origins of anti Chalcedonian theology and the influence of asceticism on its development the Christian topography of the Levant and the history of the anti Chalcedonian movement in Palestine

Rigolio, 2019-02-18 This book addresses a particular and little known form of writing the prose dialogue during the Late Antique period when Christian authors adopted and transformed the dialogue form to suit the new needs of religious debate Connected to but departing from the dialogues of Classical Antiquity these new forms staged encounters between Christians and pagans Jews Manichaeans and heretical fellow Christians At times fiction at others records of or scripts for actual debates the dialogues give us a glimpse of Late Antique rhetoric as it was practiced and tell us about the theological arguments underpinning religious differences By offering the first comprehensive analysis of Christian dialogues in Greek and Syriac from the earliest examples to the end of the sixth century CE the present volume shows that Christian authors saw the dialogue form as a suitable vehicle for argument and apologetic in the context of religious controversy and argues that dialogues were intended as effective tools of opinion formation in Late Antique society Most Christian dialogues are little studied and often in isolation but they vividly evoke the religious debates of the time and they embody the cultural conventions and refinements that Late Antique men and women expected from such debates
