The Decapitated Chicken And Other Stories Texas Pan American Series:

The Decapitated Chicken and Other Stories Horacio Quiroga, 2013-05-15 Tales of horror madness and death tales of fantasy and morality these are the works of South American master storyteller Horacio Quiroga Author of some 200 pieces of fiction that have been compared to the works of Poe Kipling and Jack London Quiroga experienced a life that surpassed in morbidity and horror many of the inventions of his fevered mind As a young man he suffered his father's accidental death and the suicide of his beloved stepfather As a teenager he shot and accidentally killed one of his closest friends Seemingly cursed in love he lost his first wife to suicide by poison In the end Quiroga himself downed cyanide to end his own life when he learned he was suffering from an incurable cancer In life Quiroga was obsessed with death a legacy of the violence he had experienced His stories are infused with death too but they span a wide range of short fiction genres jungle tale Gothic horror story morality tale psychological study Many of his stories are set in the steaming jungle of the Misiones district of northern Argentina where he spent much of his life but his tales possess a universality that elevates them far above the work of a regional writer The first representative collection of his work in English The Decapitated Chicken and Other Stories provides a valuable overview of the scope of Quiroga's fiction and the versatility and skill that have made him a classic Latin American writer

Jungle Fever Charlotte Rogers, 2012 The sinister jungle that ill defined and amorphous place where civilization has no foothold and survival is always in doubt is the terrifying setting for countless works of the imagination Films like Apocalypse Now television shows like Lost and of course stories like Heart of Darkness all pursue the essential question of why the unknown world terrifies adventurer and spectator alike In Jungle Fever Charlotte Rogers goes deep into five books that first defined the jungle as a violent and maddening place The reader finds urban explorers venturing into the wilderness encountering and living among the native inhabitants and eventually losing their minds The canonical works of authors such as Joseph Conrad Andre Malraux Jose Eustasio Rivera and others present jungles and wildernesses as fundamentally corrupting and dangerous Rogers explores how the methods these authors use to communicate the physical and psychological maladies that afflict their characters evolved symbiotically with modern medicine While the wilderness challenges Conrad's and Malraux's European travelers to question their civility and mental stability Latin American authors such as Alejo Carpentier deftly turn pseudoscientific theories into their greatest asset as their characters transform madness into an essential creative spark Ultimately Jungle Fever suggests that the greatest horror of the jungle is the unknown regions of the character's own mind
