Art, Ethics and the Human-Animal Relationship Linda Johnson,2021-09-20 This book examines the works of major artists between the seventeenth and nineteenth centuries as important barometers of individual and collective values toward non human life Once viewed as merely representational these works can also be read as tangential or morally instrumental by way of formal analysis and critical theories Chapter Two demonstrates the discrimination toward large and small felines in Genesis and The Book of Revelation Chapter Three explores the cruel capture of free roaming animals and how artists depicted their furs feathers and shells in costume as symbols of virtue and vice Chapter Four identifies speciest beliefs between donkeys and horses Chapter Five explores the altered Dutch kitchen spaces and disguised food animals in various culinary constructs in still life painting Chapter Six explores the animal substances embedded in pigments Chapter Seven examines animals in absentia in the crafting of brushes The book concludes with the fish paintings of William Merritt Chase whose glazing techniques demonstrate an artistic approach that honors fishes as sentient beings

What Is a Human? James Paul Gee,2020-09-17 In a sweeping synthesis of new research in a number of different disciplines this book argues that we humans are not who we think we are As he explores the interconnections between cutting edge work in bioanthropology evolutionary biology neuroscience human language and learning and beyond James Paul Gee advances also a personal philosophy of language learning and culture informed by his decades of work across linguistics and the social sciences Gee argues that our schools institutions legal systems and societies are designed for creatures that do not exist thus resulting in multiple interacting crises such as climate change failing institutions and the rise of nationalist nationalism As Gee constructs an understanding of the human that takes into account our social collective and historical nature as established by recent research he inspires readers to reflect for themselves on the very question of who we are a key consideration for anyone interested in society government schools health activism culture and diversity or even just survival
