The Dream Police Selected Poems 1969-1993:

The Dream Police Dennis Cooper, 1995 The Dream Police collects the best poems from five of his previous books and also includes a selection of new works. From his darkly erotic early verse to the more refined post-punk poems to his later experimental pieces, Cooper's evolving study of the distances in romantic relationships has made him a singular voice in American poetry.

AIDS Narratives Steven F. Kruger, 2013-10-28 This is the first book-length study of the rich fiction that has emerged from the AIDS crisis. Examining first the ways in which scientific discourse on AIDS has reflected ideologies of gender and sexuality such as the construction of AIDS as a disease of gay men part of a battle over masculinity and thus largely excluding women with AIDS from public attention, the book considers how such discourses have shaped narrative understandings of AIDS. On the one hand AIDS is seen as an invariably fatal weakening of an individual's bodily defenses a depiction often used to reconfirm an identification between disease and a weak and vulnerable gayness. On the other hand AIDS is understood in terms of an epidemic attributable to gay immorality or unnaturalness. The fiction of AIDS depends upon these two narratives with one major subgenre of AIDS novel presenting narratives of personal illness, decline, and death and a second focusing on epidemic spread. These novels also question the narrative structures upon which they depend, intervening particularly against the homophobia of those structures though also sometimes reinforcing it.

Our Deep Gossip

Christopher Hennessy, 2013-11-29 This book presents interviews with eight gay men who are celebrated American poets and writers discussing their early lives, friends, and communities that shaped their work histories of gay writers before them, how sex and desire connect with artistic production and what coming out means to a writer.

Enter at Your Own Risk Leora

Lev, 2006 Dennis Cooper has been both praised and censured as the most controversial writer working today for his creation of a searing outlaw textuality that charts psychosexual terrain uncensored by desire police. This volume is the first to explore Cooper's significance as a pioneering literary artist who illuminates the hidden or repressed extremities of the fin de millennium American zeitgeist. Leora Lev has assembled a roster of internationally acclaimed scholars, fiction writers, filmmakers, and artists who conjure a provocative encounter between Cooper's fiction, European transgressive literature, and philosophy e.g. Sade, Rimbaud, Bataille, Bresson, and American psychocultural topographies.

Literature and Race in Los Angeles

Julian Murphet, 2001-03-19 Los Angeles is both the most fragmented and the most minoritized metropolis in America and its most luridly abstract and aestheticized city. With more than eighty-five languages being spoken in its classrooms and one homogeneous visual language emanating from its entertainment industry, LA radically challenges the prospects of that archaic representational medium literature. In its investigation of the work of Bret Easton Ellis, James Ellroy, Anna Deveare Smith, and others, Literature and Race in Los Angeles articulates their aesthetic preoccupations with the structures of social space in the city. Harnessing some of the theoretical insights of Henri Lefebvre and the LA school of geographers, Murphet demonstrates the versatility of literary production in LA and speculates about the fortunes of literature.
