The Earliest Relationship T. Berry Brazelton, Bertrand G. Cramer, 1990 Provides insights into behaviors expressed between parents and their infant children from conception and how these behaviors affect the child's development The Earliest Relationship T. Berry Brazelton, Bertrand G. Cramer, 1991-08-15 The world renowned pediatrician T. Berry Brazelton and Bertrand G. Cramer psychoanalyst and pioneer in infant psychiatry have combined lifetimes of research and practice to write the definitive work on early parent child relationships Praised and welcomed by all those who work with new parents pediatricians nurses psychologists psychiatrists and social workers the book will be a valuable resource for concerned and curious parents The Earliest Relationship T. Berry Brazelton, 2018 T. Berry Brazelton world renowned pediatrician and expert on infant development and Bertrand Cramer pioneer in mother infant psychotherapy have combined their lifetimes of research and practice in this unique and important book Never before has research on newborn behavior and parent infant interaction been fully integrated with psychoanalytic insight into parents emotions and fantasies Brazelton and Cramer provide a vivid glimpse of the parents daydreams and narcissistic wishes which grow into a desire for a child and they show how these feelings develop into important attachments to the unborn infant during pregnancy The power and competence of the newborn born then challenges parental fantasies desires wishes and expectations creating the beginnings of the bond between parent and child Using the latest research the authors clarify all the ways the infant participates in the dawning relationship and the ingredients of very early communication and interaction They then unveil the imaginary interactions which lend meaning and drama to each gesture and expression We see the baby as Tyrant as Savior or as the reincarnation of lost relationships In the final and most important part of the book the authors put their unique combined perspective to work in nine striking case narratives drawn from their own practices Everyone who cares for mothers and babies pediatricians developmental and clinical psychologists psychiatrists early childhood specialists nurses and social workers as well as interested parents will find this book of immediate value Provided by publisher
