The Complete Buddhism for Mothers Sarah Napthali, 2025-05-27 Firmly grounded in the day to day reality of being a mother this revised and updated edition of The Complete Buddhism for Mothers gives personal and honest advice based on Buddhist teachings as applied to the everyday challenges of bringing up children Become a calmer and happier mother with The Complete Buddhism for Mothers fully revised and updated for the modern mother Parenthood can be a time of great inner turmoil for a woman yet parenting books invariably focus on nurturing children rather than the mothers who struggle to raise them This book is different These two acclaimed bestselling books Buddhism for Mothers and Buddhism for Mothers of Young Children bound together in this edition explore the joy of being with your children in the all important present moment In these books mothers have found the inspiration to be more patient loving and attentive towards their children other family members other parents but most of all themselves In her clear and engaging way Sarah Napthali takes us on a journey through the challenges and the pleasures of raising children using Buddhist teachings and principles to help her answer the eternal questions of mothers everywhere Who am I now Where am I going And how can I do my best by my children and myself This wisdom also allows space for the deeper reflections about who we are and what makes us happy Writing from personal experience and weaving in stories from other mothers throughout her narrative Sarah shows us how spiritual and mindful parenting can help all mothers to be more open and content Even if exploring Buddhism at this busy stage of your life is not where you thought you d be it s well worth reading this book It can make a difference

Buddhism for Mothers Sarah Napthali, 2003 Addressing the often overlooked spiritual needs of mothers this book discusses Buddhist teachings as applied to the everyday challenges and stresses of raising children Offered are ways for mothers to reconnect with their inner selves and become calmer and happier with the recognition that a happier mother will be a better parent This realistic look at motherhood acknowledges the sorrows as well as the joys of mothering and offers real and achievable coping strategies for mothers to renew their lives on a deep level

Buddhism for Mothers of Young Children Sarah Naphthali, 2010-10-19 A combination of personal narrative and stories gathered from mothers this guide shows how spiritual and mindful parenting can help all mothers Buddhists and non Buddhists be more open attentive and content By guiding mothers on a spiritual path this evocation also helps them cultivate wisdom open heartedness and a better understanding of themselves and their children The Buddhist teachings and principles help answer questions that all mothers face especially those with young children Who are my children Who am I How can I do my best by my children and myself What to do about all that housework Written in a clear and engaging style this warm and simple meditation facilitates parenting with awareness purpose and love Global Books in Print Buddhism for

Mothers of Schoolchildren Sarah Naphthali, 2010-10-19 With her children at school a mother is on to a new stage of her life playing a new role The daily challenges she confronts have changed yet for each one Buddhist teachings of mindfulness compassion and calm are invaluable This book explores those teachings through many scenarios including managing the stress of numerous deadlines coping with routine and repetition answering children s tricky questions about how the world works fitting in with other parents managing our fears and expectations for our children and dealing with difficult behaviours in both children and adults In her usual warm wise inclusive and accessible style Sarah also suggests ways to share Buddhist teachings with children so they maintain a connection to their own inner wisdom rather than reacting to peers and the media Within this book mothers will find the inspiration to be more patient loving and attentive towards their children other family members other parents but most of all themselves WC Sarah Naphthali is a mother of two young boys who strives to apply Buddhist teachings in her daily life She is the author of Buddhism for Mothers which has sold 60 000 copies around the world and been translated into nine languages to date and Buddhism for Mothers of Young Children formerly published under the title Buddhism for Mothers with Lingering Questions Since the children started school Sarah is very pleased to report that she manages to meditate almost daily Buddhism for Mothers with Lingering Questions Sarah Naphthali, 2007 For all mothers who loved the simplicity clarity and warmth of the bestselling Buddhism for Mothers comes the book which answers the next lot of questions Now the mother of a toddler and a primary school aged child Sarah Naphthali writes of the next stage of the parenting journey Mother-Texts Julie Kelso, Marie Porter, 2010-07-12 Every day human beings tell and are told stories sometimes in obvious ways sometimes not Most of our communication with each other direct or indirect involves narrative production and reception Narrative is constitutive of human being However whose narratives are heard Feminists argue that the relations between language knowledge gender and power particularly the question as to whether man made and controlled language is a material fit to receive and convey woman s stories are critical issues because historically patriarchy has worked to silence women's dialogue. Male knowledge unsurprisingly created and continues to create unrepresentative maternal narratives which lead to unreal expectations of mothers and motherwork. It is therefore disconcertingly significant for mothers that neither mothers nor their motherwork have been considered worthy of historical record nor are historical records usually written from a mother's perspective. Hence the narrative research in this book which gives recognition to motherhood, mothers and/or the work they do is valuable. It adds to the rapidly accumulating maternal research research that is now available for the historical record. Mothers are speaking up, developing a canon of literature research narrated in maternal language and claiming maternal knowledge and power.

Emperor Wu Zhao and Her Pantheon of Devis, Divinities, and Dynastic Mothers N. Harry Rothschild, 2015-06-16 Wu Zhao 624-705 better known as Wu Zetian or Empress Wu is the only woman to have ruled China as emperor over the course of its 5 000 year history. How did she in a predominantly patriarchal and androcentric society ascend the dragon throne? Exploring a mystery that has confounded scholars for centuries, this multifaceted history suggests that China's rich pantheon of female divinities and eminent women played an integral part in the construction of Wu Zhao's sovereignty. Wu Zhao deftly deployed language, symbol and ideology to harness the cultural resonance, maternal force, divine energy and historical weight of Buddhist deities, Confucian exemplars, Daoist immortals and mythic goddesses, establishing legitimacy within and beyond the confines of Confucian ideology. Tapping into powerful subterranean reservoirs of female power, Wu Zhao built a pantheon of female divinities carefully calibrated to meet her needs at court. Her pageant was promoted in scripted rhetoric reinforced through poetry celebrated in theatrical productions and inscribed on steles. Rendered with deft political acumen and aesthetic flair, these affiliations significantly enhanced Wu Zhao's authority and cast her as the human vessel through which the pantheon's divine energy flowed. Her strategy is a model of political brilliance and proof that medieval Chinese women enjoyed a more complex social status than previously known.
