The Routledge Companion to the Cultural Industries Kate Oakley, Justin O'Connor, 2015-05-22

The Routledge Companion to the Cultural Industries is a collection of contemporary scholarship on the cultural industries and seeks to reassert the importance of cultural production and consumption against the purely economic imperatives of the creative industries. Across 43 chapters drawn from a wide range of geographic and disciplinary perspectives, this comprehensive volume offers a critical and empirically informed examination of the contemporary cultural industries. A range of cultural industries are explored from videogames to art galleries, all the time focussing on the culture that is being produced and its wider symbolic and socio-cultural meaning. Individual chapters consider their industrial structure, the policy that governs them, their geography, the labour that produces them and the meaning they offer to consumers and participants. The collection also explores the historical dimension of cultural industry debates, providing context for new readers as well as critical orientation for those more familiar with the subject. Questions of industry structure, labour, place, international development, consumption and regulation are all explored in terms of their historical trajectory and potential future direction. By assessing the current challenges facing the cultural industries, this collection of contemporary scholarship provides students and researchers with an essential guide to key ideas, issues, concepts and debates in the field.

Winner of the 2023 SCMS Media Industries Scholarly Interest Group Outstanding Book Award sponsored by the Center for Entertainment Media Industries.

On March 15, 2011, Donald Trump changed television forever. The Comedy Central Roast of Trump was the first major live broadcast to place a hashtag in the corner of the screen to encourage real-time reactions on Twitter, generating more than 25,000 tweets and making the broadcast the most watched Roast in Comedy Central history. The Trump Roast initiative personified the media and tech industries' utopian vision for a multi-screen and communal live TV experience In Social TV Multi Screen Content and Ephemeral Culture author Cory Barker reveals how the US television industry promised but failed to deliver a social media revolution in the 2010s to combat the imminent threat of on demand streaming video Barker examines the rise and fall of Social TV across press coverage corporate documents and an array of digital ephemera He demonstrates that despite the talk of disruption the movement merely aimed to exploit social media to reinforce the value of live TV in the modern attention economy Case studies from broadcast networks to tech start ups uncover a persistent focus on community that aimed to monetize consumer behavior in a transitional industry period To trace these unfulfilled promises and flopped ideas Barker draws upon a unique mix of personal Social TV experiences and curated archives of material that were intentionally marginalized amid pivots to the next big thing Yet in placing this now forgotten material in recent historical context Social TV shows how the era altered how the industry pursues audiences Multi screen campaigns have shifted away from a focus on live TV and toward all day content streams The legacy of Social TV then is the further embedding of media and promotional material onto every screen and into every moment of life Publications Combined: Fake News, Conspiracy Theories, and Lies: Information Laundering In the 21st Century ,2018-09-06 The purpose of this research broadly speaking is to expose the threat that fake news poses to our national security This thesis answers the question Can the information laundering model or a modified version of it be used to explain how the internet is exploited to spread fake news and the resulting threat to the United States I assert that a well crafted narrative whether true or false can be spread rapidly online due to the accessibility and interconnectedness of the internet ecosystem I then articulate how these narratives can be further accelerated and disseminated when propagandists take advantage of existing processes that improve the customization ease of access and availability of information online I do this by modifying the information laundering model and then using the new model to examine the interconnectedness of search engines blogs social networking platforms and media academic outlets and how these connections can be exploited to launder false or purposefully misleading information into public discourse Finally I demonstrate how this process allows adversarial nations criminals and malicious actors to increase public discord undermine democracy and threaten Americans physical and cognitive security Contains the following studies 1 Fake News Conspiracy Theories and Lies An Information Laundering Model for Homeland Security 2 THE COMMAND OF THE TREND SOCIAL MEDIA AS A WEAPON IN THE INFORMATION AGE 3 PUTIN S PROPAGANDA WAR IS HE WINNING 4 Cyber Terrorism and Cyber Crime There Is a Difference 5 CYBERDETERRANCE IN 2035 REDEFINING THE FRAMEWORK FOR SUCCESS 6 Countering Russian Active Measures
