The Cycle Of Life Themes And Tales Of The Journey:

The Cycle of Life Erel Shalit, 2011-09-25 The art of life is the most distinguished and rarest of all the arts C G Jung CW 8 par 789 The Cycle of Life explores the patterns that unfold over the course of our lives as we set out to find our place in the world in our efforts to live authentically and in our search for home that place within ourselves that can so easily be neglected or disregarded in this fast paced modern world In the first half of life the task of the young traveler is to depart from home to adventure out into the world to find his or her own individual path However in the second half we find ourselves on what often amounts to a very long journey in search of home In many a tale the hero for instance Gilgamesh sets off on his road to find life s elixir while other stories such as the Odyssey revolve around the hero s long and arduous journey home Many are also familiar with the journey of Dante who at the very beginning of his Divine Comedy finds himself Midway along the journey of our life The archetypal journey of life is constantly reenacted in the never ending process of individuation We find ourselves returning to this venture repeatedly every night as we set out on our voyage into the landscape of our unconscious Many dreams begin by being on the way for instance I am on my way to I am driving on a road that leads into the desert I am walking through one room after the other in a long corridor like building I am walking towards my office but it looks different than in reality I walk on the pavement and on the opposite side of the street someone seems to be following me I go down into an underground parking I am in my car but someone I don t know is driving I have to go to the place from where I came

The Water of Life David Hart, 2013-06-14 The intensive study of Jungian psychology was amplified by another subject taught continuously while I was a student at the Jung Institute in Zurich Switzerland the psychology of fairy tales The study of fairy tales was the specialty of a fairly young single woman Dr Marie Louise von Franz She lectured to us English speaking students in well spoken English and the conviction and power of her voice made me feel how deep and meaningful these stories were to her Not only that I myself was immediately deeply affected by the convincing spiritual reality that was being presented to me in the stories themselves It was as if the reality of life came out here in a wholly new form untouched by the standard accepted form of common life What most struck me I think now was the following realization here in this story is a completely insoluble problem I want to follow it all the way through and to my surprise finally feel that this problem has been solved This outcome has been both essential and unbelievable to me As one who felt that life posed just such an insoluble problem I found the typical fairy tale both impossible and incredible I found in fairy tales a healing presence and possibility for the terror of my own early life This is the unexpressed feeling that kept me fastened on the totally unexpected subject of fairy tales

A Jungian Life Thomas B. Kirsch, 2014-11-15 From conception until the present C G Jung his ideas and analytical psychology itself have been a central thread of Thomas B Kirsch s life His parents James and Hilde Kirsch were in analysis with C G Jung when he was born and he was imaged to be the product of a successful analysis At an early age Dr Kirsch was introduced to many of the first generation analysts who surrounded C G

Jung and over time became acquainted with them Later in his roles with the IAAP he gained a broad knowledge of the developments in analytical psychology and through both his early family history and in his later professional life Dr Kirsch worked closely with many analysts who were integral in forming the foundations of analytical psychology Pierre Teilhard de Chardin and Carl Gustav Jung: Side by Side Fred Gustafson, 2015-03-21 Pierre Teilhard de Chardin and C G Jung Side by Side is an anthology written by authors from different backgrounds sharing how the lives of Pierre Teilhard de Chardin and Carl Gustav Jung impacted them personally and or how they understand the relevance of these two men for our present times Contributors to this fourth volume of the Fisher King Review include John Dourley Peter Dunlap Barbara Faris Fred R Gustafson John Giannini Richard W Hanhardt Robert Henderson Steven B Herrmann Jane A Kelley Jon Magnuson Francisco Paco Martorell Stan V McDaniel Dennis L Merritt and Laura A Weber Though C G Jung and Pierre Teilhard de Chardin never met their independent intellectual inquiries and courageous researches pushed the personal and collective soul forward and placed both of them at the foreground of needing to understand and integrate on a planetary level the core values of their expansive work Both Jung and de Chardin were concerned with science and religion and operated within these paradigms Both of them shook the world by offering up views on one hand of the profound depths of the human psyche and on the other presenting a profound re consideration of evolution as a process leading toward a social unification of the planet One used the concept of individuation the other spoke of evolution Each took these concepts to a creative depth so much so that the world they lived in either deeply admired or detested them Both had conflicts in their chosen fields Jung was a psychologist who used the field of science to explore the religious depths of the human soul by studying mythology world religions folk tales dreams and human behavior Chardin used the ground of religion to work in the field of science via paleontology geology and physics as he explored a deeper and relevant understanding of evolution Though each began from different intellectual platforms they each crisscrossed into the other's territory of inquiry and related their ideas to include the full scope of humanity One went deeply into soul and found matter whereas the other went deeply into matter and found soul In their own ways both spent their careers trying to heal the split between spirit and matter in the weltanschauung of their times reflected in the human psyche and in the general religious views permeating most of Western culture Jacob & Esau Erich Neumann, 2016-02-01 In 1934 Erich Neumann considered by many to have been Carl Gustav Jung's foremost disciple sent Jung a handwritten note I will pursue your suggestion of elaborating on the Symbolic Contributions to the Jacob Esau problem The great difficulty is the rather depressing impossibility of a publication Now eighty years later in Jacob and Esau On the Collective Symbolism of the Brother Motif his important work is finally published In this newly discovered manuscript Neumann sowed the seeds of his later works It provides a window into his original thinking and creative writing regarding the biblical subject of Jacob and Esau and the application of the brother motif to analytical psychology Neumann elaborates on the central role of the principle of opposites in the human soul contrasting Jacob's introversion with Esau's extraversion the sacred and the profane the inner and the outer aspects of the God image the shadow and its projection and how the old ethic expressed for example in the expulsion of the scapegoat perpetuates evil Mark Kyburz translator of C G Jung s The Red Book has eloquently rendered Neumann s text into English Erel Shalit s editing and introduction provide an entr e into Neumann s work on this subject which will be of interest to a wide range of readers from lay persons to professionals interested in Jungian psychology and Jewish and religious studies Erich Neumann was born in Berlin in 1905 He emigrated to Israel in 1934 and lived in Tel Aviv until his death in 1960 For many years he lectured and played a central role at Eranos the seminal conference series in analytical psychology His writings include Depth Psychology and a New Ethic The Origins and History of Consciousness and The Great Mother The correspondence between C G Jung and Neumann was published in 2015 Dr Erel Shalit is a Jungian psychoanalyst in Israel and founding director of the Analytical Psychotherapy Program at Bar Ilan University He is the author of several books including The Cycle of Life and The Hero and His Shadow Dr Mark Kyburz specializes in scholarly translation from German into English and is the co translator of C G Jung s The Red Book 2009 He lives and works in Zurich Switzerland Shared Realities Mark Winborn,2014-06-01 Shared Realities Participation Mystique and Beyond brings together Jungian analysts and psychoanalysts from across the United States the United Kingdom and France Carl Jung s concept of participation mystique is used as a starting point for an in depth exploration of shared realities in the analytic setting and beyond The clinical narrative and theoretical discussions move through such related areas as projective identification negative coniunctio reverie intersubjectivity the interactive field phenomenology neuroscience the transference chimera shamanism shared reality of place borderland consciousness and mystical participation This unique collection of essays bridges theoretical orientations and includes some of the most original analytic writers of our time An essential read for psychoanalysts Jungian analysts psychotherapists and analytic candidates
