The Curse of American Agricultural Abundance Willard Wesley Cochrane,2003 Good Growing Leslie A.

Duram,2005-01-01 Compelling portraits of organic farmers bring to life facts and figures in an extensive overview of the phenomenal growth in recent years of organic production and consumption The Five-Ton Life Susan Subak,2018-08-01 At nearly twenty tons per person American carbon dioxide emissions are among the highest in the world Not every American fits this statistic however Across the country there are urban neighborhoods suburbs rural areas and commercial institutions that have drastically lower carbon footprints These exceptional places as it turns out are neither poor nor technologically advanced Their low emissions are due to culture In The Five Ton Life Susan Subak uses previously untapped sources to discover and explore various low carbon locations In Washington DC Chicago suburbs lower Manhattan and Amish settlements in Lancaster County Pennsylvania she examines the built and social environment to discern the characteristics that contribute to lower greenhouse gas emissions The most decisive factors that decrease energy use are a commitment to small interiors and social cohesion although each example exhibits its own dynamics and offers its own lessons for the rest of the country Bringing a fresh approach to the quandary of American household consumption Subak s groundbreaking research provides many pathways toward a future that is inspiring and rooted in America s own traditions Ogallala John Opie,Char Miller,Kenna Lang Archer,2018-08-01 The Ogallala aquifer a vast underground water reserve extending from South Dakota through Texas is the product of eons of accumulated glacial melts ancient Rocky Mountain snowmelts and rainfall all percolating slowly through gravel beds hundreds of feet thick Ogallala Water for a Dry Land is an environmental history and historical geography that tells the story of human defiance and human commitment within the Ogallala region It describes the Great Plains natural resources the history of settlement and dryland farming and the remarkable irrigation technologies that have industrialized farming in the region This newly updated third edition discusses three main issues long term drought and its implications the efforts of several key groundwater management districts to regulate the aquifer and T Boone Pickens s failed effort to capture water from the aquifer to supply major Texas urban areas This edition also describes the fierce independence of Texas ranchers and farmers who reject any governmental or bureaucratic intervention in their use of water and it updates information about the impact of climate change on the aquifer and agriculture Read Char Miller s article on theconversation.com to learn more about the Ogallala Aquifer Imagining Seattle Serin D. Houston,2021-07 Imagining Seattle is a study of social values in urban governance and the relationship of environmentalism race relations and economic growth in contemporary Seattle Growing Local Robert P. King,Michael S. Hand,Miguel I. Gomez,2014 In an increasingly commercialized world the demand for better quality healthier food has given rise to one of the fastest growing segments of the U S food system locally grown food Many believe that relocalization of the food system will provide a range of public benefits including lower carbon emissions increased local economic activity and closer connections between consumers farmers and communities The structure of local food supply chains however may not always be capable of generating these perceived benefits Growing Local reports the findings from a coordinated series of case studies designed to develop a deeper more nuanced understanding of how local food products reach consumers and how local food supply chains compare with mainstream supermarket supply chains To better understand how local food reaches the point of sale Growing Local uses case study methods to rigorously compare local and mainstream supply chains for five products in five metropolitan areas along multiple social economic and environmental dimensions highlighting areas of growth and potential barriers Growing Local provides a foundation for a better understanding of the characteristics of local food production and emphasizes the realities of operating local food supply chains The Visible Hands That Feed Ruzana Liburkina,2023-08

The Visible Hands That Feed approaches the food sector against the backdrop of its pivotal role for social and ecological relations to trace the potentials and limitations for sustainable change from within

Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of compelling stories waiting to be discovered. The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a exceptional and thrilling novel that will keep you wondering until the very end. The novel is a warning tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
