Honor and Shame in Western History Jörg Metzlaufer, David Nash, Jan Frode

Hatlen, 2023-03-30 This book covers a wide range of topics related to honor and shame in European historical societies history of law and literature social and ancient history as well as theoretical contributions on the state of research and the importance of honor and shame in traditional societies. Honor and shame in Western History brings together 14 texts of interdisciplinary scholars from Europe and North America. It covers a wide range of topics related to honor and shame in historical societies. The contributions cover periods of Western history from Greek and Roman times to the nineteenth century and many of them integrate the concept of a deep history of honor and shame in social interaction. The book is essential for a broad audience interested in social history and the history of emotions.

Waging War Wayne E. Lee, 2016

Waging War Conflict Culture and Innovation in World History provides a wide ranging examination of war in human history from the beginning of the species until the current rise of the so called Islamic State. Although it covers many societies throughout time the book does not attempt to tell all stories from all places nor does it try to narrate important conflicts. Instead author Wayne E Lee describes the emergence of military innovations and systems examining how they were created.

and then how they moved or affected other societies These innovations are central to most historical narratives including the development of social complexity the rise of the state the role of the steppe horseman the spread of gunpowder the rise of the west the bureaucratization of military institutions the industrial revolution and the rise of firepower strategic bombing and nuclear weapons and the creation of people's war

The Darwin Effect Dr. Jerry Bergman, 2014-08-01 Dr Miklos

Nyiszli an imprisoned doctor in the Auschwitz camp wrote that Nazi doctors hoped studying twins would solve the problem of faster reproduction of superior races Nazis hoped to have each German mother bear as many twins as possible What Darwin influenced went far beyond the Nazi death camps Shocking political social and scientific legacies of Darwin and his family Disturbing disclosure of how over 45 million Christians were killed in the 20th century because of their faith Revealing and layman friendly presentation This book is the result of 30 years of research and study carefully documenting the common destructive threads that tie some of history's most murderous dictators uncaring capitalists and aggressive social activists to the flawed concepts of Charles Darwin in an effort to change the world and how they succeeded The extermination of races considered lower than others the profound lack of empathy for less advanced cultures the corrupted atheistic justifications for taking the lives of millions all done to advance the agendas of social Darwinism at work in the world today More than mere theoretical discussions we have seen the horrifying evidence of the practical results when applying these destructive and misleading concepts to society in the last 100 years

War, Peace, and Human Nature Douglas P. Fry, 2015-02

The chapters in this book posit that humans clearly have the capacity to make war but since war is absent in some cultures it cannot be viewed as a human universal And counter to frequent presumption the actual archaeological record reveals the recent emergence of war It does not typify the ancestral type of human society the nomadic forager band and contrary to widespread assumptions there is little support for the idea that war is ancient or an evolved adaptation Views of human nature as inherently warlike stem not from the facts but from cultural views embedded in Western thinking Amazon.com

The Psychology of Resolving Global Conflicts: Nature vs. nurture Mari Fitzduff, Chris E. Stout, 2006 Reveals the psychological intricacies of war conflict resolution and peace Part of the Contemporary Psychology series this book addresses ethnic conflict torture and humiliation as a weapon and how issues related to religion and gender contribute to violent conflict

The Murderer Next Door David M. Buss, 2005

Featuring a detailed study of 400 murders plus FBI files this title will appeal to readers interested in profiling true crime and murder mysteries and the inner workings of the human mind Based on groundbreaking research this is a psychologist's fascinating investigation of why everyone is wired to kill

The Journal of Psychohistory, 1999

Evolutionary Psychology and Violence Richard W. Bloom, Nancy Doss, 2003-03-30

Each chapter in this volume poses a public policy issue related to violence describes aspects of evolutionary psychology that are relative and then posits public policy recommendations based on this psychological model Topics covered also include psychopathy despotism and suicide bombings This volume is designed as an accessible way for policymakers outside of academia to learn about new theoretical developments Evolutionary psychology a relatively new theoretical model of psychology provides valuable and exciting insights on human violence and public policy issues related to human violence from war and terrorism to rape and criminality To this end each chapter in this volume poses a public policy issues related to violence describes aspects of evolutionary psychology that are relative and then posits public policy recommendations based on this psychological model Topics covered also include psychopathy despotism and suicide bombings This volume designed as an accessible way for policymakers outside of academia to learn about new theoretical developments also explodes the myths about evolutionary psychology such as the false claim that it justifies immoral behavior or focuses only on humans ugly underbelly While appealing to policymakers across foundations and agencies this collection will also interest scholars and teachers focused on evolutionary psychology public policy criminal justice security public affairs sociology and anthropology

Human Sexuality Tina S. Miracle, Andrew W. Miracle, Roy F. Baumeister, 2003 For courses in Human Sexuality found in departments of psychology health biology nursing physical education sociology and anthropology This text provides an accessible comprehensive introduction to human sexuality as it relates to basic human needs in five different categories Physical Needs Social Needs Emotional Needs Spiritual Needs and Cognitive Needs Major concepts discussed are neither over simplified nor overly technical allowing instructors the flexibility to stimulate student curiosity and imagination In addition a variety of visually appealing pedagogical aids reinforce the major points of the text Ancestral Grace Diarmuid Ó Murchú, 2008 It's the story of the human race and God's unfailing presence This fascinating account of humankind from our beginnings in Africa seven million years ago to the present blends history anthropology and spirituality to demonstrate that god has been and always will be with us from back cover The Balance of Human Kindness and Cruelty Robert B. Edgerton, 2005 This book reviews the many conflicting theories about human nature those that stress our dark side and those that emphasize our goodness It then explores actual human behavior in societies around the world beginning with earliest and smallest known societies foraging people such as the Kung San Pygmies then various kinds of farming people and finally city dwellers It also focuses on human behavior during the 20th Century providing detailed examples of human kindness and inhumanity It also examines human behavior under the most terrible kind of stress imaginable deadly prolonged famine How people respond to famine around the world is described with an emphasis on the killer famine that starved much of Ireland from 1845 to 1850 Many Irish people died of starvation but unlike other parts of the world where starvation led the strong to kill and eat the weak Irish culture forbade such killing and in reality it did not take place Finally the book summarizes the evidence then concludes that even though people have biological urges that lead toward anti social behavior human rule systems can control most of these anti social predispositions Breaking the Earthenware Jar Ruth Finney Hayward, 2000 The incidence of domestic violence in South Asia is among the highest in the world and gender based violence is seen as a major public health problem as well as a development and human rights issue The experiences views and recommendations of South Asian activists form the core of this book along with related findings and international concerns The first part of the book starts with some basic definitions looks at key international treaties and declarations and goes on to examine the problems that women and girls face due to gender violence The second part of the book looks at why gender violence occurs where change is needed and how to achieve change   Understanding Violence David P. Barash,2001 Understanding Violence provides an interdisciplinary sampling of readings geared toward deconstructing violence using a scholarly approach Drawing from key contributors across such fields as psychology criminology sociology anthropology biology and political science this text provides a core curriculum in the subject as a whole what every student should know regardless of specialization However the readings are concise enough that professors could use the book as a supplement to additional material in their preferred discipline   Unholy Terror Barry Cooper,Fraser Institute (Vancouver, B.C.),2002   The Journal of the Royal Anthropological Institute ,2002 Articles on all aspects of anthropology   Murder American Style Alex Alvarez,Ronet Bachman,2003 A part of the Wadsworth Contemporary Issues in Crime and Justice Series this text is one of a few to exclusively address the core issues that relate to criminal homicide in the United States MURDER AMERICAN STYLE provides an interdisciplinary theoretical approach to understanding the patterns and trends of lethal violence in America

The Human Potential for Peace Douglas P. Fry,2006 In The Human Potential for Peace An Anthropological Challenge to Assumptions about War and Violence renowned anthropologist Douglas P Fry shows how anthropology with its expansive time frame and comparative orientation can provide unique insights into the nature of war and the potential for peace Challenging the traditional view that humans are by nature primarily violent and warlike Professor Fry argues that along with the capacity for aggression humans also possess a strong ability to prevent limit and resolve conflicts without violence He draws on data from cultural anthropology archaeology and sociology as well as from behavioral ecology and evolutionary biology to construct a biosocial argument that challenges a host of commonly held assumptions   Dark Shamans Neil L. Whitehead,2002-10-07 Uses an ethnographic example of ritual violence to illuminate cultural expression more widely and thereby reformulate anthropological and historical approaches to warfare and violence
