The Debate About The Death Penalty Ethical Debates:

The Debate About the Death Penalty Kaye Stearman,2007-12-15 Describes the debate about the death penalty raising questions about whether it is justified whether it is ever humane who dies and who lives and whether the death penalty ever makes society safer

Debating the Death Penalty Hugo Adam Bedau,Paul G. Cassell,2005-03-24 When news breaks that a convicted murderer released from prison has killed again or that an innocent person has escaped the death chamber in light of new DNA evidence arguments about capital punishment inevitably heat up Few controversies continue to stir as much emotion as this one and public confusion is often the result This volume brings together seven experts judges lawyers prosecutors and philosophers to debate the death penalty in a spirit of open inquiry and civil discussion Here as the contributors present their reasons for or against capital punishment the multiple facets of the issue are revealed in clear and thought provoking detail Is the death penalty a viable deterrent to future crimes Does the imposition of lesser penalties such as life imprisonment truly serve justice in cases of the worst offences Does the legal system discriminate against poor or minority defendants Is the possibility of executing innocent persons sufficient grounds for abolition In confronting such questions and making their arguments the contributors marshal an impressive array of evidence both statistical and from their own experiences working on death penalty cases The book also includes the text of Governor George Ryan s March 2002 speech in which he explained why he had commuted the sentences of all prisoners on Illinois s death row By representing the viewpoints of experts who face the vexing questions about capital punishment on a daily basis Debating the Death Penalty makes a vital contribution to a more nuanced understanding of the moral and legal problems underlying this controversy

The Death Penalty Robert M. Baird,Stuart E. Rosenbaum,2011 In this excellent anthology leading experts examines all sides of this thorny issue Besides age old questions surrounding the death penalty some of the articles also address the impact of new advances in DNA technology

Educating for Character Thomas Lickona,2009-09-02 Calls for renewed moral education in America s schools offering dozens of programs schools can adopt to teach students respect responsibility hard work and other values that should not be left to parents to teach

Tavani,2016-01-11 Ethics and Technology 5th Edition by Herman Tavani introduces students to issues and controversies that comprise the relatively new field of cyberethics This text examines a wide range of cyberethics issues from specific issues of moral responsibility that directly affect computer and information technology IT professionals to broader social and ethical concerns that affect each of us in our day to day lives The 5th edition shows how modern day controversies created by emerging technologies can be analyzed from the perspective of standard ethical concepts and theories The Ethics of Capital Punishment Matthew H. Kramer,2011-12-15 Debate has long been waged over the morality of capital punishment with standard arguments in its favour being marshalled against familiar arguments that oppose the practice In The Ethics of Capital Punishment Matthew Kramer takes a fresh look at the philosophical arguments on which the legitimacy of the death penalty stands or falls and he develops a novel justification of that penalty for a limited range of cases The book pursues both a project of critical debunking of the familiar rationales for capital punishment and a project of partial vindication The critical part presents some accessible and engaging critiques of major arguments that have been offered in support of the death penalty These chapters suitable for use in teaching courses on capital punishment valuably take issue with positions at the heart of contemporary debates over the morality of such punishment The book then presents an original justification for executing truly terrible criminals a justification that is free standing rather than an aspect or offshoot of a general theory of punishment Its purgative rationale which has not heretofore been propounded in any current philosophical and practical debates over the death penalty derives from a philosophical reconception of the nature of evil and the nature of defilement As the book contributes to philosophical discussions of those phenomena it also contributes importantly to general normative ethics with sustained reflections on the differences between consequentialist approaches to punishment and deontological approaches Above all the volume contributes to the philosophy of criminal law with a fresh rationale for the use of the death penalty and with probing assessments of all the major theories of punishment that have been broached by jurists and philosophers for centuries Although the book is a work of philosophy by a professional philosopher it is readily accessible to readers who have not studied philosophy It will stir both philosophers and anyone engaged with the death penalty to reconsider whether the institution of capital punishment can be an appropriate response to extreme evil The Parliamentary Debates (official Report). Great Britain. Parliament. House of Lords,1913 The Death Penalty United Nations Social Defence Research Institute,1988 The Parliamentary Debates Great Britain. Parliament,1907 Executing Justice Lloyd H. Steffen,2006-03-14 Justice for Deborah Thornton is complete Richard Thornton said after the execution of her killer Karla Faye Tucker in Texas I want to say to every victim in the world demand this But which form of justice is this victim demanding retribution or restoration Taking seriously the claims of death penalty supporters Lloyd Steffen constructs a theory of just execution For every acknowledged killer on death row there are dozens who maintain their innocence Supporters of the death penalty along with its opponents must demand fairness so that innocent persons are not subjected to the terror of an unjust execution Reminding us that Jesus likewise faced the terror of unjust execution Steffen asks Christians to reacquaint themselves with the symbol of the cross as an instrument of state terror rather than a divine decoration Contemporary Moral Issues Wesley Cragg,1987
