VIII PREFACE

one of the Harvard-Yenching Institute; Jonathan Sacks, the chief rabbi of Britain and the Commonwealth; George Weigel, my predecessor at the Center and the author of a forthcoming biography of Pope John Paul II; David Martin, the leading student of the evangelical upsurge in the Third World; Grace Davie, a British sociologist who is an expert on religion in Europe; and Abdullahi An-Na'im, an internationally recognized scholar of Islam and human rights. We owe a debt of gratitude to our seven authors, for traveling to Washington to speak and for the additional work they did to prepare their papers for publication.

I would like as well to thank Professor Baevech for asking us to collaborate with him, always a task both intellectually stimulating and personally rewarding. On his behalf and my own, I wish to thank John Kizer and the Grove Foundation for his initiative, his counsel throughout, and the foundation's financial support. Finally, these essays were edited for publication by Carol Griffiths, editor at the Ethics and Public Policy Center, to whom we at the Center and all who read this book are in debt.

The Desecularization of the World: A Global Overview

Peter L. Berger

A few years ago the first volume coming out of the so-called Fundamentalism Project landed on my desk. The Fundamentalism Project was very generously funded by the MacArthur Foundation and chaired by Martin Marty, the distinguished church historian at the University of Chicago. A number of very reputable scholars took part in it, and the published results are of generally excellent quality. But my contemplation of this first volume gave me what has been called an "aha" experience. The book was very big, sitting there on my desk—a "book-weapon," the kind that could do serious injury. So I asked myself, why would the MacArthur Foundation shell out several million dollars to support an international study of religious fun-

The Desecularization Of The World The Desecularization Of The World:

The Desecularization of the World Peter L. Berger, 1999-07-16 Theorists of secularization have for two centuries been saying that religion must inevitably decline in the modern world But today much of the world is as religious as ever This volume challenges the belief that the modern world is increasingly secular showing instead that modernization more often strengthens religion Seven leading cultural observers examine several regions and several religions and explain the resurgence of religion in world politics Peter L Berger opens with a global overview The other six writers deal with particular aspects of the religious scene George Weigel with Roman Catholicism David Martin with the evangelical Protestant upsurge not only in the Western world but also in Latin America Africa the Pacific rim China and Eastern Europe Jonathan Sacks with Jews and politics in the modern world Abdullahi A An Na im with political Islam in national politics and international relations Grace Davie with Europe as perhaps the exception to the desecularization thesis and Tu Weiming with religion in the People s Republic of China

The desecularization of the world : resurgent religion and world politics Peter L. Berger (ed), 1999 Encountering Religious Pluralism Harold Netland, 2001-08-14 Harold Netland traces the emergence of the pluralistic ethos that challenges Christian faith and mission interacting heavily with philosopher John Hick and providing a framework for developing a comprehensive evangelical theology of religions Secularization Revisited - Teaching of Religion and the State of Denmark Niels Reeh, 2016-08-03 Since 2001 history has proven the classic and once dominant theories of secularization wrong Instead of abandoning the subject of secularization Niels Reeh s Secularization Revisited demonstrates how the collapse of formerly dominant secularization theories indicates fundamental conceptual challenges within sociology Through a historical sociological case study of the political decision making concerning the teaching of religion in Denmark from 1721 to 2006 Reeh explains why sociology of religion and sociology more generally should pay more attention to interstate relations state form and state agency The Danish state s interest in its inhabitants religion over the last three centuries responded not only to religious motives but to concerns about foreign relations and the survival of the state

Secularization of Islam in Post-Revolutionary Iran Mahmoud Pargoo, 2021-05-30 Examining the trajectory of the secularization of Islam in Iran this book explains how efforts to Islamize society led self destructively to its secularization The research engages a range of debates across different fields emphasizing the political and epistemological instability of the basic categories such as Islam Sharia and secularism The volume is an interdisciplinary study of both the history of Islamic revival and Khomeini s very specific merger of Islamic law and mysticism It traces back the process of secularization to the early encounter of Iranian intellectuals with Europeans and adoption of their fundamental framework in an Islamic guise The process continued until the Islamic Revolution of Iran in 1979 when Khomeini tried to substantively de secularize Iranian social imaginaries His attempts were not followed up by his followers who vigorously reinstated the previous trend after his death resulting in a polity that is mostly secular but with Islamic ornaments Bringing together area studies Iran religious studies Islam and political theory secularism this interdisciplinary volume places findings in a broader narrative that is both specific to Iran and broad enough to engage a global readership      Encyclopedia of Global Religion Mark Juergensmeyer, Wade Clark Roof, 2012 Presents entries A to L of a two volume encyclopedia discussing religion around the globe including biographies concepts and theories places social issues movements texts and traditions      Religions and the Task of Peace-building Van Lal Thuam Lian, 2016-07-14 Seminar paper from the year 2016 in the subject Philosophy Miscellaneous grade Distinction course MA language English abstract Religion is expected by the secularists to decline slowly and be privatised and so not to have any influence on the public sphere Also after the 9 11 attack the doubt over religion as a cause of terrorism became strong and atheists claim that they are right in labelling religion as the cause of violence Therefore people influenced by secularism and atheism claim that religion has nothing to offer the task of peace building in the society This essay is an attempt to critically look into this secularisation theory on the role of religion in the task of peace building in the world and how far it is false The essay has three parts The first part deals with the main ideas of secularisation theory and the atheists as they are the main groups excluding religion in the task of peace building The second part in response to the secularist and atheist theory attempts to delineate the indispensable role of religion in the public sphere and in the task of peace building from the perspectives of the resurgence of religion the root of war and conflict and sociology After arguing for the inseparableness of religion in the public sphere in the second part the final part deals with the idea of peace building the contribution of religion to reconciliation and peace building and the challenge to the world religions in their engagement in the task of peace building Here it should be acknowledged that the influence of Christianity despite an attempt to represent different religions will be often seen in the thought and terms used in the essay as it is written from Christian background      The Oxford Encyclopedia of the Modern World Peter N. Stearns, 2008 The Encyclopedia of the Modern World delves into the period from 1750 to the present providing special attention to social economic cultural and political topics applicable to the time The breadth of knowledge offered within this multivolume set is astounding with features spanning articles on countries regions and ethnic groups themes involving social history demography family life politics economics religion thought education science and technology and culture events such as major wars and extensive coverage of the United States Detailed articles cover not only the major facts but the interpretations as well and are written for readers who are not specialists in the particular area Enriched with over 800 halftones and 50 maps this reference work is essential for any scholar general reader collector or curator interested in this rich and varied time in history Through its fluent global coverage The Encyclopedia of Modern World provides information about and interpretation of major developments across particular regions both salient events and regional perspectives on common themes such as politics demography social class and gender Readers can explore topics that have global implications such as migration childhood and foods topics that can be viewed through a combination of global patterns and key comparisons Entries also shed light on standard geographic and ethnic units such as Scandinavia Korea or the Gypsies in the modern period The Encyclopedia presents unprecedented coverage of global processes and institutions themselves including the International Red Cross and the League of Nations Publisher Symposium on Religion, Religious Pluralism, and the Rule of Law ,2007 Mapping the Academic Debate Johannes Duschka,Christoph Kleine,Monika

Wohlrab-Sahr,Florian Zemmin,2024-12-16 This volume maps the international academic debate on secularity It places seminal contributions from within Western academia alongside less well known texts from various parts of the world in several cases this is the first time that they have been translated into English The volume demonstrates that the academic debate on secularity was and is a global debate with contributions from many regions The collected texts relate to each other either directly or indirectly by referring to similar arguments whether reinforcing or criticising them and thus create a discourse When speaking of global secularity we therefore do not insinuate a uniform world secularity resulting from the alleged global diffusion of Western norms ideas and concepts It is rather a web of relations that is constituted via various different references These references are not evenly distributed the development in the West is often the point of reference to which positions from other regions relate to which they connect or from which they distance themselves But the references are not completely unidirectional We also present texts from Europe that underline the multidirectionality of the process even early on Thereby the volume offers the reader the material with which to trace these global exchanges and references Florida State University Law Review Florida State University.
