The Dialectics Of The Abstract And The Concrete In Marx's Capital:

The Dialectics of the Abstract and the Concrete in Marx's Capital E. V. Ilyenkov, 2008 The book presents an integral Marxist conception of the dialectics and methodology of scientific theoretical cognition of the dialectical interrelation between the abstract and the concrete of the unity of the historical and the logical of the correlat Dialectics of the Abstract and Concrete in Marx's Capital Evald Vasilyevich Ilyenkov, 1982 The dialectics of the abstract and the concrete in Marx's "Capital" Èval'd Vasil'evič forme avant 2007 Il'enkov, 1982 The New Dialectic and Marx's Capital Chris Arthur, 2021-08-04 This book argues that the dialectic of Marx's Capital has a systematic rather than historical character It sheds new light on Marx's great work while going beyond it in many respects Exploring Marx's Capital Jacques Bidet, 2007 Offers a fresh interpretation of Marx's great work This book shows how the novelty and lasting interest of Marx's theory arises from the fact that as against the project of a pure economics it is formulated in concepts that have simultaneously an economic and a political aspect neither of these being separable from the other Hegel, Marx, and the Necessity and Freedom Dialectic Russell Rockwell, 2018-04-26 This book provides close readings of primary texts to analyze the linkage between G W F Hegel's philosophy and Karl Marx's critical social theory of necessity and freedom This is important for three reasons first to understand the significance of the changing relationships of work society and critical social theory in the origins of Hegelian Marxism in the US as documented in the recently published correspondence between the Marxist Humanist theoretician Raya Dunayevskaya and the critical theorist Herbert Marcuse second to identify the intersections of the Critical Theorists Jürgen Habermas and Marcuse's influential reinterpretations of Marx's value theory of economy and society that enables navigation of the changing relationships of the social and economic spheres in the last century as developed in Marx's Grundrisse and thirdly to assess the potential of Moishe Postone's renewal of Marx's value theory largely conceived by the notion of a necessity and freedom dialectic intrinsic to capitalism Essays on Marx's Capital Geert Reuten, 2024-05-13 In this book Geert Reuten presents 21 of his previously published essays on the three volumes Marx's Capital dating from 1991-2019 The essays largely take the form of a summary of Marx's text a Volume or its Parts or Chapters followed by an appreciation and when required a reconstruction The book thus offers an overview of each of the three volumes of Capital including their interconnection as well as a focus on specific Parts of Capital Throughout the general overviews and more focused analyses Reuten emphasises Marx's systematic dialectical method and his monetary value form analysis Marx's Capital and Hegel's Logic, 2014-04-17 This book provides a wide ranging and in depth reappraisal of the relation between Marx's economic theory in Capital and Hegel's Logic by leading Marxian economists and philosophers from around the world The subjects dealt with include systematic dialectics the New Dialectics materialism vs idealism Marx's inversion of Hegel Hegel's Concept logic universality particularity singularity Hegel's Essence logic essence appearance Marx's levels of abstraction of capital in general and competition and capital as Hegelian Subject The papers in this volume were originally presented at the 22nd annual meeting of the International Symposium on Marxian Theory at Mount Holyoke College in August 2011 The twelve authors are divided between seven economists and five philosophers as is fitting for the interdisciplinary subject of the relation between Marx's economic theory and Hegel's logic Contributors are Chris Arthur Riccardo Bellofiore Roberto Fineschi Gastón Caligaris Igor Hanzel Juan Igo Carrera Mark Meaney Fred Moseley Patrick Murray Geert Reuten Mario Robles Tony Smith and Guido Starosta The Scientific Marx Daniel Little, 1986 The Scientific Marx was first published in 1986 Minnesota Archive Editions uses digital technology to make long unavailable books once again accessible and are published unaltered from the original University of Minnesota Press editions Marx advanced Capital to the public as a scientific explanation of the capitalist economy intending it to be evaluated by ordinary standards of scientific adequacy Today however most commentators emphasize Marx's humanism or his theory of historical materialism over his scientific claims The Scientific Marx thus represents a break with many current views of Marx's analysis of capitalism in that it takes seriously his claim that Capital is a rigorous scientific investigation of the capitalist mode of production Daniel Little discusses the main features of Marx's account applying the tools of contemporary philosophy of science He analyzes Marx's views on theory and explanation in the social sciences the logic of Marx's empirical practices the relation between Capital and historical materialism the centrality of micro foundations in Marx's analysis and the minimal role that dialectics plays in his scientific method Throughout Little relies on evidence taken from Marx's actual practice as a social scientist rather than from his explicit methodological writings The book contributes to current controversies in the literature of analytic Marxism joined by such authors as Jon Elster G A Cohen and John Roemer

Problems of Developmental Instruction Vasilii Vasil'evich Davydov, 2008 Based on the results of many years of experimental and theoretical research it is impossible not to conclude that the problems of developmental instruction and upbringing are among the most significant problems of contemporary psychology especially in the fields of developmental and pedagogical psychology The overall orientation of pedagogical thought and practice will in large part depend on their successful elaboration The essence of these problems can be expressed concisely as follows Do a person's instruction and upbringing determine the processes of his psychical development and if they do determine them then is it possible to understand the nature of the link between psychical development and instruction and upbringing In other words can we assert that developmental instruction and upbringing exist and if they exist then what laws do they obey In everyday life these problems sometimes take the form of the question Can we by means of instruction and upbringing develop in a person certain psychical capacities or qualities that previously did not exist In the history of psychology several theories have been created with respect to these problems each of the theories being based on data from a given pedagogical practice on materials derived from experience These theories may provisionally be divided into two groups The adherents of the first group of theories deny that instruction and upbringing can have any significant effect on a person's psychical development i e they deny the very existence of developmental instruction and upbringing Adherents of the second group of theories acknowledge the determining role of instruction and upbringing in a person's psychical development and try to study the laws of developmental instruction and upbringing Each of these two basic groups of theories has many different variants The author notes that the accepted techniques of instruction and upbringing in different educational institutions are in some way connected with these theories Therefore the pedagogical practitioners who are guided by such techniques realise consciously or unconsciously fully or partially the principles of one or the other of these groups of theories Marxism and Struggle
