mesmerizingly Cl mence Michallon The New York Times Book Review Stunningly realized Exquisite A spellbinding novel Maaza Mengiste author of The Shadow King The thrilling and deeply moving new novel by David Diop winner of the International Booker Prize Paris 1806 The renowned botanist Michel Adanson lies on his deathbed the masterwork to which he dedicated his life still incomplete As he expires the last word to escape his lips is a woman s name Maram The key to this mysterious woman s identity is Adanson s unpublished memoir of the years he spent in Senegal concealed in a secret compartment in a chest of drawers Therein lies a story as fantastical as it is tragic Maram it turns out is none other than the fabled revenant A young woman of noble birth from the kingdom of Waalo Maram was sold into slavery but managed to escape from the Island of Gor e a major embarkation point of the transatlantic slave trade to a small village hidden in the forest While on a research expedition in West Africa as a young man Adanson hears the story of the revenant and becomes obsessed with finding her Accompanied by his guide he ventures deep into the Senegalese bush on a journey that reveals not only the savagery of the French colonial occupation but also the unlikely transports of the human heart Written with sensitivity and narrative flair David Diop s Beyond the Door of No Return is a love story like few others Drawing on the richness and lyricism of Senegal s oral traditions Diop has constructed a historical epic of the highest order Diasporic Women's Writing of the Black Atlantic Emilia María Durán-Almarza,Esther Álvarez López,2013-10-30 This book brings together a complete set of approaches to works by female authors that articulate the black Atlantic in relation to the interplay of race class and gender The chapters provide the grounds to en gender a more complex understanding of the scattered geographies of the African diaspora in the Atlantic basin The variety of approaches displayed bears witness to the vitality of a field that over the years has become a diasporic formation itself as it incorporates critical insights and theoretical frameworks from multiple disciplines in the social sciences and the humanities thus exposing the manifold character of black diasporic interconnections within and beyond the Atlantic Focusing on a wide array of contemporary literary and performance texts by women writers and performers from diverse locations including the Caribbean Canada Africa the US and the UK chapters visit genres such as performance art the novel science fiction short stories and music For these purposes the volume is organized around two significant dimensions of diasporas on the one hand the material corporeal and spatial locations where those displacements associated with travel and exile occur and on the other the fluid environments and networks that connect distant places cultures and times This collection explores the ways in which women of African descent shape the cultures and histories in the modern colonial and postcolonial Atlantic worlds Door of No Return Kwame Alexander,2022 A novel in verse about an Asante boy who is captured and taken from his village during the nineteenth century Dreams of Archives Unfolded Jocelyn Fenton Stitt,2021-06-18 The first book on pan Caribbean life writing Dreams of Archives Unfolded reveals the innovative formal practices used to write about historical absences within contemporary personal narratives Although the premier genres of writing postcoloniality in the Caribbean have been understood to be fiction and poetry established figures such as Erna Brodber Maryse Cond Lorna Goodison Edwidge Danticat Saidiya Hartmann Ruth Behar and Dionne Brand and emerging writers such as Yvonne Shorter Brown and Gaiutra Bahadur use life writing to question the relationship between the past and the present Stitt theorizes that the remarkable flowering of life writing by Caribbean women since 2000 is not an imitation of the memoir boom in North America and Europe instead it marks a different use of the genre born out of encountering gendered absences in archives and ancestral memory that cannot be filled with more research Dreams of Archives makes a significant contribution to studies of Caribbean literature by demonstrating that women's autobiographical narratives published in the past twenty years are feminist epistemological projects that rework Caribbean studies longstanding commitment to creating counter archives Encyclopedia of Black Studies Molefi Kete Asante,Ama Mazama,2005 In the 1960s Black Studies emerged as both an academic field and a radical new ideological paradigm Editors Molefi Kete Asante and Ama Mazama Black Studies Temple U both influential and renowned scholars have compiled an encyclopedia for students high school and beyond and general readers It presents analysis of key individuals events a House of Slaves & Door of No Return Edmund Abaka,2023-11-12 The book situates the slave forts slave castles and dungeons of Ghana in the history of the Atlantic Slave trade to argue that these sites of historical memory to the people of the African Diaspora were critical in the whole slave trade experience The Door of No Return Mary A. Flowers,2000 Pope John Paul stood at this door and apologized to millions of Africans in diaspora for the role that the Catholic church played in facilitating the African slave trade Nelson Mandela huddled in a small cell designed for the most recalcitrant slaves and emerged 20 minutes later visibly shaken President Clinton Hilary and Chelsea Clinton and a large delegation of the Black Caucus visited this place where the President stopped short of apologizing to African Americans for the pain that slavery inflicted upon them Other African American dignitaries have journeyed to this sacred place and left scathing indictments of anger or wrenching words of profound sorrow Mohammed Ali Dick Gregory Jessie Jackson Rev Al Sharpton and hundreds of others The Door Of No Return is the door of the slave house on Goree Island located in Senegal west Africa where millions of African slaves looked back to get their last glimpse of The Motherland before being loaded onto slave ships headed to America They were then stacked human length to human length onto European ships and sold to the Americas and Caribbean Islands to work as free laborers making the western world the great civilization that it is today Robbed of all ancestral ties Africans in America were treated like chattel and were housed on this small island of Goree where they were subjected to deplorable conditions and sold to America the land of the free and the home of the brave These African slaves were sold to one of the greatest powers of the western world which was built on the backs of the slave These contradictions of freedom built on the backs of slaves still haunt privileged American and the heirs of the slaves whose ancestors were sacrificed to make this nation great Misdirected anger in the African American community has led to a surge of Black on Black crime gang warfare drug addiction massive imprisonment of Africa American males tremendous rise in the incidence of AIDS and infectious self loathing It is this very sense of hopelessness and helplessness that led me to seek comfort in the arms of Mother Africa and in doing so I have discovered a new sense of purpose and direction My book The Door of No Return A Spiritual pilgrimage For Africans in America is 250 pages long and it catapults the reader along with 3 African American female physicians to Dakar Senegal after I am involved in a drive by shooting It is a fictionalized non fiction work which uses real life characters and events some of which have been altered to protect the privacy of individuals or institutions Starting from a small crime ridden town in California I seek refuge with my girlfriends on this small slave island of Goree where inadvertently I claim the pain of my slave ancestors There on this small island I am reunited with my soul when we visit the slave castle as tourists The Door of No Return is steeped in African history and famous African American quotations which are interspersed throughout the text are meant to inspire those who choose to take this pilgrimage to The Door of No Return
