The Doors Of The Sea Where Was God In The Tsunami:

The Doors of the Sea David Bentley Hart,2005-06-20 Developing his short piece in the Wall Street Journal following the horrific recent Asian tsunami Hart again takes up this pressing question How can the existence of a good and loving God be reconciled with such suffering

The Doors of the Sea David Bentley Hart,2008 As news reports of the horrific tsunami in Asia reached the rest of the world commentators were quick to seize upon the disaster as proof of either God s power or God s nonexistence Expanding on his Wall Street Journal piece Tremors of Doubt published the last day of 2004 David Bentley Hart here returns to this pressing question How can the existence of a good and loving God be reconciled with such suffering Hart clarifies the biblical account of God s goodness the nature of evil and the shape of redemption incisively revealing where both Christianity s champions and its critics misrepresent what is most essential to Christian belief What Shall We Say? Thomas G. Long,2014-03-11 Tsunamis earthquakes famines diseases wars these and other devastating forces lead Christians to ask painful questions Is God all powerful Is God good How can God allow so much innocent human suffering These questions taken together have been called the theodicy problem and in this book Thomas Long explores what preachers can and should say in response he offers biblically based approaches to preaching on theodicy guided by Jesus parable of the wheat and the tares and the greatest theodicy text in Scripture The book of Job from book jacket

Christ and the Created Order Zondervan,2018-05-08 According to the Christian faith Jesus Christ is the ultimate revelation not only of the nature of God the Creator but also of how God the Creator relates to the created order The New Testament explicitly relates the act of creation to the person of Jesus Christ who is also a participant within creation and who is said by his acts of participation to have secured creation s ultimate redemption from the problems which presently afflict it Christian theology proposes that Jesus Christ the incarnate Word and Wisdom of God the agent in whom the Spirit of God is supremely present among us is the rationale and the telos of all things time space as we experience and explore it nature and all its enigmas matter itself Christology is thus utterly fundamental to a theology of creation as this is unfolded both in Scripture and in early Christian theology For all this the contemporary conversation about science and faith tends to a remarkable degree to neglect the significance of Jesus Christ focusing instead on a generic God of wonder or God of natural theology Such general theism is problematic from the perspective of Christian theology on many levels and has at times led to a more or less deistic theology the impression that God has created the world then largely left it to itself Such a theology is far removed from classical Christian renderings of creation providence redemption and eschatology According to these the theology of creation is not just about remote beginnings or the distant acts of a divine originator Rather the incarnate Jesus Christ is himself remarkably the means and the end for which creation itself exists If we would think aright about our world study it and live within it wisely we must reckon centrally with his significance What might such a bold claim possibly mean and why is Jesus Christ said by Christian theology to be so important for understanding God s overall relationship to the created order What does this importance mean for science Christ and the Created Order addresses these questions by gathering insights from biblical scholars theologians historians philosophers and scientists This interdisciplinary collection of essays reflects on the significance of Jesus Christ for understanding the created world particularly as that world is observed by the natural sciences Contributors to Christ and the Created Order include Marilyn McCord Adams Richard Bauckham Deborah Haarsma Paul

The Book Review Digest ,2005 Pro Ecclesia ,2005 Life Together in the Way of Jesus Christ Dan R. Stiver,2009 Dan Stiver has crafted an engaging one volume introduction to Christian beliefs based on his experience teaching introductory theology courses While describing how traditional theology came to be he explains for both undergraduates and graduate students how theology is already a part of their life of faith As he examines traditional theological issues and such current topics as globalization and ecology Stiver treats theology as a living dynamic activity Employing useful case studies his groundbreaking approach helps students understand what theology is and shows them that they are participants in creating an ongoing vigorous theology that will remain at the center of their faith for the rest of their lives Participatory Biblical Exegesis Matthew Levering,2008 THe interpretation of Scripture has depended largely on the view of history held by theologians and exegetes This text examines the changing views of history that distinguish patristic and medieval biblical exegesis from modern historical critical exegesis The New Criterion ,2005

Religious and Theological Abstracts ,2006 The Open Secret Alister E. McGrath,2008-04-28 Natural Theology explores the knowledge of God as it is observed through nature This book sets forth a new approach to the study of natural theology reestablishing its legitimacy as a distinct aspect of Christian theology Written by internationally regarded theologian and author of numerous bestselling books Alister McGrathTreats natural theology as a cultural phenomenon broader than Christianity itself yet always possessing a distinctively Christian embodimentExplores topics including beauty goodness truth and the theological imagination how investigating nature gives rise to both theological and scientific theories the idea of a distinctively Christian approach to nature and how natural theology can function as a bridge between Christianity and other faiths The Publishers Weekly ,2005 Dharma Deepika ,2006 Eden's Garden Richard J. Coleman,2007 In Eden s Garden Rethinking Sin and Evil in an Era of Scientific Promise Richard Coleman examines the notion of sin in a contemporary world that values scientific and nonreligious modes of thought regarding human behavior This work is not an anti science polemic but rather an argument to show how sin and evil can make sense to the nonreligious mind and how it is valuable to make sense of such phenomena Examining themes in religion philosophy and theology it is ideal for use in the numerous courses which move across these disciplines Library Journal ,2005 Compassion Maureen H. O'Connell,2009 After presenting a historical overview of the development of the concept of compassion O Connell turns to contemporary theologians Jon Sobrino and Johann Baptist Metz to better understand how compassion can alleviate massive and unjust suffering and how compassion offers a road map for a better future First Things ,2005-08
