The Cyborg Handbook Chris Hables Gray, Steven Mentor, Heidi Figueroa-Sarriera, 1995 On cybernetic organisms cyborgs Chinese Experimental Architecture Or French Poststructuralist Theory Ruo Jia, 2025-11-18 Chinese Experimental Architecture Or French Poststructuralist Theory Different Patches of the Concrete starts with a paradox how the Chinese Cultural Revolution through its adaptation by French Theory and French Theory's subsequent adaptation by Chinese Experimental Architecture shaped the Chinese reformative effort to redefine itself amidst its struggle against colonial dynamics and against the Cultural Revolution Through French Poststructuralist Theory the project creates a critical narrative to access the Chinese Experimental Architecture movement of the late 1990s and early 2000s and its legacy in contemporary Chinese architecture At the same time it provides in retrospect an opportunity to approach French Theory in its rich global materiality as a production of Chinese Experimental Architecture This study thus overcomes simplistic dichotomies of dominant and subjugated reductive labels of orientalism self orientalism and nationalism as well as architectural stylistic or operative canons It opens such borders and enclosed entities in a positive way exploring collaborative inquiries where new possibilities of different materialist architectural design and socio eco political epistemological structure emerge in a field of events encounters and connections around the problematic and signifier of the concrete

Garments of Paradise Susan Elizabeth Ryan, 2014-06-13 A historical and critical view of wearable technologies that considers them as acts of communication in a social landscape Wearable technology whether a Walkman in the 1970s an LED illuminated gown in the 2000s or Google Glass today makes the wearer visible in a technologically literate environment Twenty years ago wearable technology reflected cultural preoccupations with cyborgs and augmented reality today it reflects our newer needs for mobility and connectedness In this book Susan Elizabeth Ryan examines wearable technology as an evolving set of ideas and their contexts always with an eye on actual wearables on clothing dress and the histories and social relations they represent She proposes that wearable technologies comprise a pragmatics of enhanced communication in a social landscape Garments of paradise is a reference to wearable technology's promise of physical and mental enhancements Ryan defines dress acts hybrid acts of communication in which the behavior of wearing is bound up with the materiality of garments and devices and focuses on the use of digital technology as part of such systems of meaning She connects the ideas of dress and technology historically in terms of major discourses of art and culture and in terms of mass media and media culture citing such thinkers as Giorgio Agamben Manuel De Landa and Gilles Deleuze and Félix Guattari She examines the early history of wearable technology as it emerged in research labs the impact of ubiquitous and affective approaches to computing interaction design and the idea of wearable technology as a language of embodied technology and the influence of open source ideology Finally she considers the future as wearing technologies becomes an increasingly naturalized aspect of our social behavior

Planetary Solidarity Grace Ji-Sun Kim, Hilda P.

Koster, 2017-08-23. Planetary Solidarity brings together leading Latina womanist, Asian American, Anglican, American, South American, Asian, European, and African woman theologians on the issues of doctrine, women, and climate justice. Because women make up the majority of the world's poor and tend to be more dependent on natural resources for their livelihoods and survival, they are more vulnerable when it comes to climate related changes and catastrophes. Representing a subfield of feminist theology that uses doctrine as interlocutor, this book asks how Christian doctrine might address the interconnected suffering of women and the earth in an age of climate change. While doctrine has often stifled change, it also forms the thread that weaves Christian communities together. Drawing on postcolonial, ecofeminist, womanist analysis, and representing different ecclesial and denominational traditions, contributors use doctrine to envision possibilities for a deep solidarity with the earth and one another while addressing the intersection of gender, race, class, and ethnicity. The book is organized around the following doctrines: creation, the triune God, anthropology, sin, incarnation, redemption, the Holy Spirit, ecclesiology, and eschatology.

Performativity and the Representation of Memory: Resignification, Appropriation, and Embodiment

Dinis, Frederico, 2024-08-21. The age of digital culture has not only brought significant transformations in how we perceive memory, history, and heritage, but it has also raised pressing questions about authenticity and ownership of memory. The role of digital technologies in shaping collective identities is a topic of intense scrutiny. Moreover, contemporary societies grapple with complex issues in the politics of memory, especially with the proliferation of diverse narratives and the manipulation of public spaces. The book's content is therefore highly relevant, offering critical reflection and scholarly analysis to these societal challenges. Performativity and the Representation of Memory: Resignification, Appropriation, and Embodiment offers a comprehensive exploration of these issues, examining how contemporary practices of re-enactment intersect with digital contexts to shape our understanding of memory and heritage. The book analyzes the processes of memory creation and transmission in digital environments, providing a nuanced understanding of how memory is constructed, shared, and contested in the digital age. It also explores the role of arts-based research and participatory practices in documenting and preserving collective memories, offering insights into new forms of memory sharing and identity formation.
