Descent of Man and Selection in Relation to Sex Charles Darwin, 2004 Excerpt from The Descent of Man and Selection in Relation to Sex The nature of the following work will be best understood by a brief account of how it came to be written During many years I collected notes on the origin or descent of man without any intention of publishing on the subject but rather with the determination not to publish as I thought that I should thus only add to the prejudices against my views It seemed to me sufficient to indicate in the first edition of my Origin of Species that by this work light would be thrown on the origin of man and his history and this implies that man must be included with other organic beings in any general conclusion respecting his manner of appearance on this earth Now the case wears a wholly different aspect When a naturalist like Carl Vogt ventures to say in his address as President of the National Institution of Geneva personne en Europe au moins n ose plus soutenir la creation ind pendant et de toutes pieces des esp es it is manifest that at least a large number of naturalists must admit that species are the modified descendants of other species and this especially holds good with the younger and rising naturalists The greater number accept the agency of natural selection though some urge whether with justice the future must decide that I have greatly overrated its importance Of the older and honoured chiefs in natural science many unfortunately are still opposed to evolution in every form About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works

Probings and Re-Probings Sankar Ray, Shaibal Gupta, 2021-11-01 Controversy was the breath of Marx's life and he revelled in it We are therefore not at all apologetic wrote Puran Chand Joshi in the preface to Karl Marx A Symposium published in 1968 commemorating the 150th birth anniversary of Marx adding further It is in the best Indian tradition to operate with belief and hope that it is only through the clash of ideas that truth emerges At a time when a Marxian renaissance has been taking place in academia Joshi's words reverberate with a new vitality an evanescence of official Marxism and official Marxist parties notwithstanding There is no denying that the so called Marxists now pay dearly for wavering between a rather mechanistic interpretation of crisis and its opposite the conviction that capitalism could only be overcome by an act of will This book is the outcome of an international conference on Karl Marx organised by ADRI in Patna between June 16 and 20 2018 keeping the new Marxian reality in mind Over 50 scholars from across the world sent papers to the Conference covering topics such as economics politics society philosophy etc ADRI welcomed them with an open mind in sync with the Marxian reawakening that treats Marx historically and critically This

Architecture Martin van der Linden, 2021-03-12 The question of what architecture is answered in this book with one sentence Architecture is space created for human activities The basic need to find food and water places these activities within a larger spatial field Humans have learned and found ways to adjust to the various contextual difficulties that they faced as they roamed the earth Thus rather than adapting humans have always tried to change the context to their activities Humanity has looked at the context not merely as a limitation but rather as a spatial situation filled with opportunities that allows through intellectual interaction to change these limitations Thus humanity has created within the world their own contextual bubble that firmly stands against the larger context it is set in The key notion of the book is that architecture is space carved out of and against the context and that this process is deterministic
