Google Maps Applications with PHP and Ajax was written to help you take advantage of this technology in your own endeavors whether you're an enthusiast playing for fun or a professional building for profit. This book covers version 2 of the API including Google's new Geocoding service. Authors Jeffrey Sambells, Cameron Turner and Michael Purvis get rolling with examples that require hardly any code at all but you'll quickly become acquainted with many facets of the Maps API. They demonstrate powerful methods for simultaneously plotting large data sets, creating your own map overlays and harvesting and geocoding sets of addresses. You'll see how to set up alternative tile sets and where to access imagery to use for them. The authors even show you how to build your own geocoder from scratch for those high volume batch jobs. As well as providing hands on examples of real mapping projects this book supplies a complete reference for the Maps API along with the relevant aspects of JavaScript, CSS, PHP and SQL. Visit the authors website for additional tips and advice.

Digital Methods

Richard Rogers, 2013-05-10 A proposal to repurpose Web native techniques for use in social and cultural scholarly research. In Digital Methods Richard Rogers proposes a methodological outlook for social and cultural scholarly research on the Web that seeks to move Internet research beyond the study of online culture. It is not a toolkit for Internet research or operating instructions for a software package; it deals with broader questions. How can we study social media to learn something about society rather than about social media use? Rogers proposes repurposing Web native techniques for research into cultural change and societal conditions. We can learn to reapply such methods of the medium as crawling and crowd sourcing, PageRank and similar algorithms, tag clouds and other visualizations. We can learn how they handle hits, likes, tags, date stamps and other Web native objects. By thinking along with devices and the objects they handle, digital research methods can follow the evolving methods of the medium. Rogers uses this new methodological outlook to examine such topics as the findings of inquiries into 9/11 search results, the recognition of climate change skeptics by climate change related Web sites and the censorship of the Iranian Web. With Digital Methods Rogers introduces a new vision and method for Internet research and at the same time applies them to the Web's objects of study from tiny particles, hyperlinks to large masses, social media.
