The Map A Beginners Guide To Doing Research In Translation Studies:

The Map Jenny Williams, Andrew Chesterman, 2002 The Map is a practical guide for students doing their first major research at BA and MA PhD levels Translation Studies at the Interface of Disciplines João Ferreira Duarte, Alexandra Assis Rosa, Teresa Seruya, 2006-01-01 Printbegr nsninger Der kan printes 10 sider ad gangen og max 40 sider pr session Knowledge Systems and Translation Helle V. Dam, Jan Engberg, Heidrun Gerzymisch-Arbogast, 2005 It is generally agreed that knowledge plays an important role in translation and interpreting. This book systematically addresses the question of knowledge in translation and interpreting. The experts present a variety of conceptions of knowledge and a number of different approaches to the study of knowledge in translation and interpreting Handbook of Translation Studies Yves Gambier, Luc van Doorslaer, 2012 As a meaningful manifestation of how institutionalized the discipline has become the new Handbook of Translation Studies is most welcome. It joins the other signs of maturation such as Summer Schools the development of academic curricula historical surveys journals book series textbooks terminologies bibliographies and encyclopedias. The HTS aims at disseminating knowledge about translation and interpreting and providing easy access to a large range of topics traditions and methods to a relatively broad audience not only students who often adamantly prefer such user friendliness researchers and lecturers in Translation Studies Translation but also scholars and experts from other disciplines among which linguistics sociology history psychology. In addition the HTS addresses any of those with a professional or personal interest in the problems of translation interpreting localization editing etc such as communication specialists journalists literary critics editors public servants business managers intercultural organization specialists media specialists marketing professionals. Moreover The HTS offers added value. First of all it is the first Handbook with this scope in Translation Studies that has both a print edition and an online version. The advantages of an online version are obvious it is more flexible and accessible and in addition the entries can be regularly revised and updated. The Handbook is variously searchable by article by author by subject. A second benefit is the interconnection with the selection and organization principles of the online Translation Studies Bibliography TSB. The taxonomy of the TSB has been partly applied to the selection of entries for the HTS. Moreover many items in the reference lists are hyperlinked to the TSB where the user can find an abstract of a publication. All articles between 500 and 6 000 words are written by specialists in the different subfields and are peer reviewed. Last but not least the usability accessibility and flexibility of the HTS depend on the commitment of people who agree that Translation Studies does matter. All users are therefore invited to share their feedback. Any questions, remarks and suggestions for improvement can be sent to the editorial team at hts.lessius.eu Writing and Presenting a Dissertation on Linguistics, Applied Linguistics and Culture Studies for Undergraduates and Graduates in Spain María Luisa Pérez Cañado, Barry Pennock-Speck, 2015-06-23 This book has been designed to guide students through the main phases in writing and presenting an undergraduate MA or PhD dissertation. These include choosing a topic carrying out the review of literature gathering and analyzing data writing up the dissertation and finally preparing and delivering a presentation within the context of a viva This eminently practical manual has been written in a reader friendly style Theoretical explanations are complemented by numerous examples for analysis and illustration as well as activities to apply practise and review the notions introduced in each chapter

A History of Modern Translation Knowledge Lieven D'huist,Yves Gambier,2018-06-28 A History of Modern Translation Knowledge is the first attempt to map the coming into being of modern thinking about translation It breaks with the well established tradition of viewing history through the reductive lens of schools theories turns or interdisciplinary exchanges It also challenges the artificial distinction between past and present and it sustains that the latter's historical roots go back far beyond the 1970s Translation Studies is but part of a broader set of discourses on translation we propose to label translation knowledge This book concentrates on seven processes that make up the history of modern translation knowledge generating mapping internationalising historicising analysing disseminating and applying knowledge All processes are covered by 58 domain experts and allocated over 55 chapters with cross references This book is indispensable reading for advanced Master and PhD students in Translation Studies who need background information on the history of their field with relevance for Europe the Americas and large parts of Asia It will also interest students and scholars working in cultural and social history
