Varieties of Realism Margaret A. Hagen, 1986-05-31 Varieties of Realism argues that it is not possible to represent the layout of objects and surfaces in space outside the dictates of formal visual geometry the geometry of natural perspective The book examines most of the world's coherent representational art styles both in terms of the geometry of their creation and in terms of their perceptual effects on the viewer A lucid exposition of modern geometrical principles and relations accessible to the nonmathematical reader is followed by an analysis of all known styles as variants of natural perspective as true varieties of realism Delineating the physical and mechanical constraints that determine the act of visual representation in painting and drawing the author traces the intimate relations among seemingly distant styles and considers the kind of perceptual information about the world each can carry Margaret Hagen is a perceptual psychologist with an ecological point of view Her rigorous but readable presentation of visual theory and research offers provocative new insights into the connections among vision geometry and art

Aristotle and Logical Theory Jonathan Lear, 1980-05-08 Aristotle was the first and one of the greatest logicians He not only devised the first system of formal logic but also raised many fundamental problems in the philosophy of logic In this book Dr Lear shows how Aristotle's discussion of logical consequence validity and proof can contribute to contemporary debates in the philosophy of logic No background knowledge of Aristotle is assumed

A Theory of Narrative F. K. Stanzel, 1986-03-13 The purpose of this book is to provide a clear and systematic account of the complexities of fictional narration which result from the shifting relationship in all storytelling between the story itself and the way it is told

The Puritan Conversion Narrative Patricia Caldwell, 1985-11-29 In the mid seventeenth century persons on both sides of the Atlantic wishing to join a Puritan church had to appear before all of its members and tell the story of their religious conversion in effect to give convincing verbal evidence that their souls were saved This book explores the testimonies of spiritual experience delivered by puritans in the mid seventeenth century in order to qualify for membership of their local churches

Valuation in Criticism and Other Essays F. R. Leavis, 1986-07-17 This volume gathers together some of F R Leavis's earliest work with the things he was working on before his death as well as a representative sample of pieces reflecting the concerns he developed throughout his writing life This material from the whole span of a long writing career shows both the continuity of his pre occupations and important respects in which his judgements changed In an introductory essay Professor Singh discusses each piece and relates it to the development of Leavis s ideas The reader can trace his concern for standards of critical valuation as it evolved through studies of T S Eliot D H Lawrence William Empson George Eliot Henry James W B Yeats I A Richards and others Leavis s well known reflections on Marxism are also included The Political and Social Theory of Max Weber Wolfgang J.
