Park Policies Approved

City Council Agrees To Recommendations

By J. H. HARRISON

Park policies were recommended and approved by the City Council in a session held last night.

The recommendations were made by the Park Commission, which was organized by the City Council in 1931.

The Commission, composed of the Mayor, the City Engineer, and the City Auditor, has been working on the problem of park development in Plano since its organization.

The Commission has recommended that the City Council should approve a plan for the development of parks in Plano, which would include the following:

1. The establishment of a park commission, which would be responsible for the development of parks in Plano.

2. The establishment of a park fund, which would be used for the development of parks in Plano.

3. The establishment of a park department, which would be responsible for the maintenance of parks in Plano.

The City Council has agreed to the recommendations of the Park Commission, and has authorized the Mayor to execute the plan for the development of parks in Plano.

The City Council has also authorized the Mayor to execute the plan for the development of parks in Plano, which would include the following:
