Writing As A Second Language:

Teaching Writing as a Second Language Alice Horning, 1986-09-26 Classrooms filled with glassy eyed students provide an experiential base for Alice S Horning's new comprehensive theory about basic writers. Horning explores the theory of writing acquisition in detail. Her examination of spoken and written language and redundancy give a theoretical base to her argument that academic discourse is a separate linguistic system characterized by particular psycholinguistic features. She proposes that basic writers learn to write as other learners master a second language because for them academic written English is a whole new language. She explores the many connections to be found in second language acquisition research to the teaching and learning of writing and gives special attention to the interlanguage hypothesis, pidginization theory and the Monitor theory. She also addresses the role of affective factors feelings attitudes emotions and motivation in the success or failure of writing students. Second Language Writing Ken Hyland, 2003-10-27 Table of contents. Teaching Academic Writing Brian Paltridge, 2009 Chapters address a full range of critical topics including the context and process of academic writing needs analysis, teaching approaches, the interrelationship between writing and vocabulary, intercultural perspectives, feedback and assessment. Each chapter includes Classroom Implications, tasks and techniques for teaching and some possible exercises to use with students. Chapters begin with thought provoking questions and end with a section designed to help users consider their own beliefs and classroom practices. Back cover. Genre and Second Language Writing Ken Hyland, 2004-09-14 An expert in the field addresses a hard to grasp concept for new writing teachers.

Controversies in Second Language Writing Christine Pearson Casanave, 2007 Controversies in Second Language Writing is not a how to book but one that focuses on how teachers in L2 writing can be helped to make reasoned decisions by understanding some of the key issues and conflicting opinions about L2 writing research and pedagogy. This book will assist teachers in making informed decisions about teaching writing in the ESL classroom. To counteract some of the debates Casanave explores the different sides of the arguments and provides examples of how other teachers have dealt with these issues. The book presents novice and seasoned teachers with thought provoking issues and questions to consider when determining and reflecting on their own teaching strategies and criteria. Topics discussed include contrastive rhetoric, product vs process, fluency and accuracy, assessment of student work, audience, plagiarism, politics and ideology. Second Language Writing Systems Vivian Cook, Benedetta Bassetti, 2005-05-23 Second Language Writing Systems looks at how people learn and use a second language writing system, arguing that they are affected by characteristics of the first and second writing systems to a certain extent independently of the languages involved. This book presents for the first time the effects of writing systems on language reading and writing and on language awareness and provides a new platform for discussing bilingualism, biliteracy and writing systems. The approach is interdisciplinary with contributions not only from applied linguists and psychologists but also corpus linguists, educators and phoneticians. A variety of topics are covered from handwriting to spelling word recognition to the mental lexicon and language textbooks to metalinguistic awareness. Though most of the studies concern adult L2 learners and users other populations covered include minority children, immersion students and bilingual children. While the emphasis is on English as the L2 writing system, many other writing systems are analysed as L1 or L2: Arabic, Chinese, Dutch, Gujarati, Indonesian, Irish, Italian and Japanese. Approaches that are represented include contrastive analysis, transfer, poststructuralism, connectionism and corpus analysis. The readership is SLA and bilingualism researchers, students and teachers around the world. Language teachers will also find much food for thought.

Connecting Reading & Writing in Second Language Writing Instruction Alan Hirvela, 2004-08-20. Academic writing often requires students to incorporate material from outside sources like statistics, ideas, quotations, paraphrases into their own written texts, a particular obstacle for students who lack strong reading skills. In Connecting Reading and Writing in Second Language Instruction, Alan Hirvela contends that second language writing students should be considered as readers first and advocates the integration of reading and writing instruction with a survey of theory, research and pedagogy in the subject area. Although the integrated reading writing model has gained popularity in recent years, many teachers have little more than an intuitive sense of the connections between these skills. As part of the popular Michigan Series on Teaching Multilingual Writers, Connecting Reading and Writing in Second Language Instruction will provide invaluable background knowledge on this issue to ESL teachers in training as well as teachers who are already practicing.

Feedback in Second Language Writing Ken Hyland, Fiona Hyland, 2006-08-14. This collection of scholarly articles by leading researchers offers empirical data and analysis of complex issues related to providing feedback during the writing process.

Learning-to-write and Writing-to-learn in an Additional Language Rosa Manchón, 2011. Bridges the gap between the fields of second language acquisition (SLA) and second and foreign language (L2) writing. This title intends to advance our understanding of written language learning by collecting theoretical meta reflections and empirical studies that shed light on two crucial dimensions of the theory and research in the field.

Writing in a Second Language Bruce Leeds, 1996.

Practicing Theory in Second Language Writing Tony Silva, Paul Kei Matsuda, 2010-01-15. Theory has been used widely in the field of second language writing. Second language writing specialists, teachers, researchers and administrators have yet to have an open and sustained conversation about what theory is, how it works and more important, how to practice theory. Practicing Theory in Second Language Writing features fourteen essays by distinguished scholars in second language writing who explore various aspects of theoretical work that goes on in the field.

Scientific Writing in a Second Language David Ian Hanauer, Karen Englander, 2013-02-17. Scientific Writing in a Second Language investigates and aims to alleviate the barriers to the publication of scientific research articles experienced by scientists who use English as a second language. David Ian Hanauer and Karen Englander provide a comprehensive meta synthesis of what is currently known about the phenomenon of second language scientific publication and the ways in which this issue has been addressed.

Journal

Writing in Second Language Education Christine Pearson Casanave,2011-02-04 Journal writing is not new journals have been around for centuries More recently journals have been viewed as a means of scaffolding reflective teaching and encouraging reflectivity in research processes As a result some educators may ask What more do we need to know Those likely to raise this question are probably not thinking of the explosive growth of reflective writing enabled by social networking on the Web the blogs and other interactive e vehicles for reflection on experiences in our literate real and virtual lives This revisiting of journal writing from a 21st century perspective informed by relevant earlier literature is what Christine Pearson Casanave guides readers through in this first book length treatment of the use of journal writing in the contexts of language learning pre and in service teaching and research Casanave has put together existing ideas that haven t been put together before and has done it not as an edited collection but as a single authored book She has done it in a way that will be especially accessible to teachers in language teacher education programs and to practicing teachers and researchers of writing in both second and foreign language settings and in a way that will inspire all of us to think about not just do journal writing Those who have never attempted to use journals in their classes and own lives as well as others who have used it with mixed results will probably be tempted to try it in at least some of the venues Casanave provides guidance for Those already committed to journal writing will very likely find in this book new reasons for expanding and enhancing their use of journals

Assessing Second Language Writing in Academic Contexts Liz Hamp-Lyons,1991 This is the first volume to focus on the assessment of second language writing The collection as a whole provides coverage of all issues in second language writing assessment starting from the context in which and for which assessment must occur moving through the aspects of decision making and design in a writing assessment program and then considering how the need to evaluate any program on assessment can be carried out After a discussion of issues of public reporting an area which will receive increasing attention in the next few years the volume closes with a discussion of what new issues and answers the future may bring The book reflects the current belief in direct writing assessment in second language writing assessment While it is often expected that those working with ESL students will focus on language error throughout the book themes of needs attitudes ideas and content dominate For second language writers the use of written language to learn to create knowledge and to share ideas and beliefs are vitally important Additionally issues of cross cultural academic literacy practical information on criteria and scoring models for use with ESL writers and research on the efficacy and effects of various assessment models are provided The book blends theory and practice in a way which offers all those who are concerned with the writing skills of nonnative users of English an invaluable resource
