Fugitive Time Matthew Omelsky, 2023-11-03 In Fugitive Time Matthew Omelsky theorizes the embodied experience of time in twentieth and twenty first century black artforms from across the world Through the lens of time he charts the sensations and coursing thoughts that accompany desires for freedom as they appear in the work of artists as varied as Toni Morrison Yvonne Vera Aimé Césaire and Issa Samb Fugitive time names a distinct utopian desire directed at the anticipated moment when the body and mind have been unburdened of the violence that has consumed black life globally for centuries bringing with it a new form of being Omelsky shows how fugitive time is not about attaining this transcendent release but is instead about sustaining the idea of it as an ecstatic social gathering From the desire for ethereal queer worlds in the Black Audio Film Collective's Twilight City to Sun Ra's transformation of nineteenth century scientific racism into an insurgent fugitive aesthetic Omelsky shows how fugitive time evolves and how it remains a dominant form of imagining freedom in global black cultural expression

Glory NoViolet Bulawayo, 2022-03-08 2022 BOOKER PRIZE FINALIST. Manifoldly clever, brilliant. Glory is its own vivid world drawn from its own folklore. This is a satire with sharper teeth, angrier and also very, very funny. Violet Kupersmith. The New York Times Book Review. Genius 1. New York Times bestselling author Jason Reynolds. From the award-winning author of the Booker prize finalist We Need New Names, an exhilarating novel about the fall of an oppressive regime and the chaos and opportunity that rise in its wake. NoViolet Bulawayo's bold new novel follows the fall of the Old Horse, the long-serving leader of a fictional country and the drama that follows for a rumbustious nation of animals on the path to true liberation. Inspired by the unexpected fall by coup in November 2017 of Robert G. Mugabe, Zimbabwe's president of nearly four decades, Glory shows a country's imploding narrated by a chorus of animal voices that unveil the ruthlessness required to uphold the illusion of absolute power and the imagination and bulletproof optimism to overthrow it completely. By immersing readers in the daily lives of a population in upheaval, Bulawayo reveals the dazzling life force and irresistible wit that lie barely concealed beneath the surface of seemingly bleak circumstances. And at the center of this tumult is Destiny, a young goat who returns to Jidada to bear witness to revolution and to recount the unofficial history and the potential legacy of the females who have quietly pulled the strings here. The animal kingdom, its connection to our primal responses and its resonance in the mythology, folktales, and fairy tales that define cultures, the world over, unmasks the surreality of contemporary global politics to help us understand our world more clearly, even as Bulawayo plucks us right out of it. Although Zimbabwe is the immediate inspiration for this thrilling story, Glory was written in a time of global clamor with resistance movements across the world challenging different forms of oppression. Thus it often feels like Bulawayo captures several places in one blockbuster allegory, crystallizing a turning point in history with the texture and nuance that only the greatest fiction can.

African Women Narrating Identity Rose A. Sackeyfio, 2023-08-08. This book examines the complexities of women's lives in Africa and the transnational spaces of Europe and North America through the literary works of key African women writers. Using a postcolonial analytical framework, the book highlights the commonalities of African women's identities and experiences across national, ethnic, linguistic, and religious boundaries in Africa and in western settings. It collates the multi-regional narratives of key African women writers who convey how women's lives are shaped by social, economic, and political factors at home and abroad. It also illustrates the intersection of ethnicity, class, and gender that flows through all the texts examined. Unlike existing works that explore African women's fiction, this book uncovers the transformation from postcolonial themes of nationhood to global modalities of post-independence writing through the lens of gender. The book engages with feminist expression through broad themes including religion, war, and ethnic conflict, women's status in society, tradition, and
