Winds Against the Mind Lola Bamigboye, 2008-09 To achieve total wellness the undisturbed mind and the body must work together in harmony Lola Bamigboye views mental illness such as depression bipolar Alzheimer's dementia schizophrenia panic attacks anorexia nervosa bulimia alcoholism drug addiction and other common mental illnesses as winds against the mind She uses the real life experiences of the people who suffered from mental illness and the pain of their loved ones who cared for them to make the nature of each particular illness so touching and real to the reader Sometimes heartbreaking sometimes a happy ending the stories are eye openers and enlightening The causes symptoms and management of each mental illness and the vast resources available for help are also discussed WINDS AGAINST THE MIND is empowering informative and full of hope

The Crucified Mind Robert Havard, 2001 Why is the Spanish input to Surrealism so distinctive and strong What do such renowned figures as Dalí Buñuel Lorca Aleixandre and Alberti have in common This book untangles the issue of Surrealism in Spain by focusing on a consistent feature in Spanish avant garde poetry art and film of the late twenties and thirties its supersaturation in religion A repressive religious upbringing typically under the Jesuits intensifies both the paranoiac and the mystical Surrealism's twin pillars which were already deeply ingrained in the Spanish psyche Striking examples are Lorca's prophetic voice in New York Dalí and Buñuel's Eucharistic transformations Alberti's Loyolan material mysticism Alberti is the fulcrum of this study since his poetry goes the full distance of Surrealism's evolution from Freudian catharsis to metaphysical transcendence until it expires in a Marxist reaction to church bound tradition when his nation convulses in civil war the surrealist ethos in Spain is not reducible to measuring how closely it imitates French theory It is more serious than the French says Alberti and its bearings are found on a cross of mental suffering and in a journey out of hell that made real art in practice ROBERT HAVARD is Professor of Spanish University of Wales Aberystwyth

Analytical Repertory of the Symptoms of the Mind Constantine Hering, 2001 The arrangement as well as the style of printing has the one object especially in view viz to make it as easy as possible for the eye and through the eye for the mind to find what is looked for
