This new edition explains what radio in America has been where it is today and where it is going covering the basics of how programming is produced, financed, delivered and promoted via terrestrial and satellite broadcasting, streaming and podcasting. John Allen Hendricks and Bruce Mims examine radio and its future within a framework of existing and emerging technologies. Black Women and da 'Rona Julia S. Jordan-Zachery, Shamara Wyllie Alhassan, 2023-04-18 Rooted in the ways Black women understand their lives, this collection archives practices of healing, mothering, and advocacy during the COVID 19 pandemic. Recognizing that Black women have been living in pandemics as far back as colonialism and enslavement, this volume acknowledges that records of the past from the 1918 flu pandemic to the onset of the HIV/AIDS epidemic often erase the existence and experiences of Black women as a whole. Writing against this archival erasure, this collection consciously re-centers the real-time experiences and perspectives of care policy concerns, grief, and joy of Black women throughout the COVID 19 pandemic. Nineteen contributors from interdisciplinary fields and diverse backgrounds explore Black feminine community consciousness, ethics of care, spirituality, and social critique. They situate Black women's multidimensional experiences with COVID 19 and other violences that affect their lives. The stories they tell are connected and interwoven, bound together by anti-Black gendered COVID necropolitics and commitments to creating new spaces for breathing, healing, and wellness. Ultimately, this time warping analysis shows how Black women imagine a more just society rapidly adapt to changing experiences and innovate ethics of care even in the midst of physical distancing, which can be instructive for thinking of new ways of living both during and beyond the era of COVID 19.
