perspective and a high performance athlete's perspective I've never understood why football players aren't using Olympic Sprinter Running Mechanics to crush their 40 yard dash personal bests Simply bearing down and running hard never gets the results you think it will so stop doing that This book gives you the 40 yard dash speed solution and Beginner's guide to sprinting technique and Mental preparation and steps to get the perfect sprinting technique Its Science Stupid... the Physics and Physiology of Sprinting. the New Guide for Parents, Athletes, and Coaches Eric Johnson, 2018-04-20 We now live in an information age more so than we did 10 years ago With so much research and knowledge at your fingertips why not be aware of the science technology and new developments of your sport Why rely solely on an unproven copycat coach and controversial practices If you have the passion I will arm you with the science So get ready to Sprint faster coach winners and also be able to impress your Biology Physics and all your other science teachers The things that we practice day in and day out through the years become habits both bad and good As we practice and repeat these habits we get better at them through the years both bad and good This would include getting good at procrastination or planning saving or spending proper technique or uniquely ugly and ineffective So why would you ever practice something not good not a function of your sport or a controversial issue when there is never enough time to teach and practice functional technique and all other good aspects of specific sports This applies to everybody writers police teachers parents athletes and coaches I believe coaching is to Teach and Inspire Greatness As a coach you should not be a drill sergeant Working out is secondary to learning technique An athlete should be inspired to be on the team and ready to learn their science from a master Therefore the coach should be able to demonstrate that they are an accomplished student of the sport and thus ready and able to teach Most athletes endure muscle and soft tissue injuries that are avoidable Some have the misfortune to experience joint and bone injuries The activities that cause these injuries cause up to an 8% reduction in performance for quick twitch or explosive athletes such as sprinters jumpers golfers etc After this decreased performance athletes strain to regain their previous performance levels and then are sidelined by an injury To become a better Sprinter Jumper golfer etc Learn and practice the science that affects your sport or events This practice could take years to develop muscle memory speed endurance and mental execution and conviction Do not offset the development harmonic balance and progress of a growing child with copycat controversial methods There are no short cuts cheats or instant improvements to better performance that is sustainable Sprint Triathlon Training in 4 Weeks Kylie Palombella, 2014-09-25 If you're looking for a complete 4 week training manual for your upcoming Sprint Triathlon then this book is for you Make no mistake the sprint triathlon though the shortest distance of triathlon is still a test of fitness endurance and focus However the length of each section makes it much more accessible to the beginner athlete Even competitors at an early stage of fitness training can with four weeks of hard work get themselves ready for a sprint triathlon This book is a fantastic way to get organized and motivated so that you can tackle your upcoming sprint triathlon with success Training isn't just about getting out of bed and exercising It is also about eating right treating your body right and getting your mind right before your first triathlon This book promises to get you ready which means that we have to look at all those aspects of preparation as well      A Manual for Coaching College Male Sprinters Alhaji GAZ.
