Council removes 1974 amendment

City electrical bills revised

The Stephenville City Council last night, after an amendment to the city's electrical utility ordinance was removed from the agenda, approved a resolution to revise the city's electrical utility ordinance.

The amendment, which was introduced by Councilman Charles Mayes, would have amended the city's electrical utility ordinance to require that the city's electrical utility be operated by a private company.

Water proposals given

According to the Texas Water Development Board, the city of Stephenville is one of the few cities in the state that has a water supply plan.

The city's water supply plan, which was approved by the city council in 1974, provides for the construction of a new water supply system.
