Stress & Anxiety Relief Samar Ghadban, 2016-06-28

Anxiety is a common human experience which is a form of fear of so many things like bankruptcy, work or sickness. These tensions don't only affect the mind but they affect the body too because body and mind are not two separate entities they communicate together as one entity and when the mind becomes tensed the body directly becomes tensed too. When we are anxious or get worried the energy of the anxiety can be channeled into action where it becomes a problem and when it happens for no obvious reason it makes us afraid but we don't know what to do to restore a sense of safety. Therefore when feeling anxious without a clear reason all we can do is to worry. The anxiety is telling us that something is wrong and we'd better do something about it but we don't know what's wrong or what to do our minds get caught up in worry and the worry makes the anxiety worse. Before we know it we're in the anxiety worry spiral. Anxiety and worry feed each other. To complicate things even more we become anxious about being anxious. We try to push the anxiety out or run away from it and that makes it even worse. Add to mention there are two kinds of tension the body tensions and the mind tensions. Both have to be released before you can start relaxation which will bring you to awareness. Through this book you will learn about awareness and relaxation which are two sides of the same coin and you can't separate them. Thus awareness takes you away from the mind and the identifications of the mind and naturally the body starts relaxing for you are no longer attached and tensions which can't exist in the light of awareness. This book reveals facts about stress and how it starts in the mind first then the body follows where it also explains about certain techniques used for relaxation breathing, yoga, food for relaxation. In addition to meditation which requires no energy for meditation is passive.
