Passive and Active Measurement Arvind Krishnamurthy, Bernhard Plattner, 2010-04-01 The 2010 edition of the Passive and Active Measurement Conference was the 11th of a series of successful events. Since 2000 the Passive and Active Measurement (PAM) conference has provided a forum for presenting and discussing innovative and early work in the area of Internet measurements. PAM has a tradition of being a workshop-like conference with lively discussion and active participation from all attendees. This event focuses on research and practical applications of network measurement and analysis techniques. This year's conference was held at ETH Zurich, Switzerland. PAM 2010 attracted 79 submissions. Each paper was carefully reviewed by at least three members of the Technical Program Committee. The reviewing process led to the acceptance of 23 papers. The papers were rearranged in five sessions covering the following areas: routing, transport protocols, mobile devices, topology measurement, infrastructure characterizing, network usage analysis, techniques, traffic analysis, and the Web. We are very grateful to Endace Ltd, New Zealand, Cisco Systems Inc, USA, Armasuisse, Switzerland, and the COST Action TMA whose sponsoring allowed us to keep registration costs low and to offer several travel grants to PhD students. We are also grateful to ETH Zurich for sponsoring PAM as a host. HCI Beyond the GUI Philip Kortum, 2008-06-13 As technology expands and evolves, one-dimensional graphical user interface (GUI) design becomes increasingly limiting and simplistic. Designers must meet the challenge of developing new and creative interfaces that adapt to meet human needs and technological trends. HCI Beyond the GUI provides designers with this knowledge by exploring new ways to reach users that involve all of the human senses. Dr. Kortum gathers contributions from leading human factors designers to present a single reference for professionals, researchers, and students. Explores the human factors involved in the design and implementation of the nontraditional interfaces, detailing design strategies, testing methodologies, and implementation techniques. Provides an invaluable resource for practitioners who design interfaces for children, gamers, and users with accessibility needs. Offers extensive case studies, examples, and design guidelines.
