Students from local area schools will be awarded outstanding scholar and outstanding athlete at the Greater Bellmore Chamber of Commerce dinner meeting May 15. The ceremony is being held at the Bellmore Country Club and will also honor two retiring members from "Class" Elementary School.

High schools to be presented are Bellmore, Farmingdale and Wantagh. For the Miller Diamond Outstanding Athlete Award and the Miller Diamond Outstanding Scholar Award, Honesty Crooks of One Chamber's Education Foundation is in charge of the awards.

Representing Bellmore High is Gregory A. Maggi, present recipient of the Presidential Scholar award given him a year ago. A National Merit Scholar, he has a 4.0 grade average and has been a member of the Illinois Chamber's Phi Beta Kappa scholarship.

Bellmore's outstanding athlete, Mark Pohl, junior, has won the Chamber's high school basketball title each year in his junior years, all city basketball his senior year, and a plaque for all-city basketball this year. He was a 1977 captain of the Bellmore basketball team. He has also played in basketball tournaments from Texas to N.Y.

A third scholarship will also be presented to a Bellmore High, T.R. or V.O. student.

Wantagh's chosen for outstanding scholar is Dan Ayers, the school's highest ranking 1977 graduate. Ayers is president of the Mu Alpha Theta Chapter, former secretary of a National Honor Society, and a recipient of the Presidential Scholar Award.

Outstanding athlete at Wantagh is Carol Green, who received first place in triple jump track competition.

Other recipients have been named. LaGuardia High School's outstanding scholar, with a 4.0 grade average, is a member of the National Honor Society, the plan to major in government in college and later

Commission OKs Site Plans; Hearings Set

2 May 8. The report on the action of the City Council will include a zoning variance.

Conditions were added to the project for an extension of the required eight-foot

sidewalk along the north side of the site to the end of the parking area, except for the rear side of the site between the parking garage and the property line, that the developer pay all cost in connection with the required

sidewalk, and that the sidewalk be removed if the extension delay caused the developer to prohibit any pedestrian access to the site from Long Island, that the project comply with all requirements of the zoning ordinance.

The P. & Z. majority objected to the motion to approve based on their view that a total Comprehensive Plan should be developed with projected "any specific areas and meeting a question of 'spot zoning'."

The majority overruled since the Comprehensive Plan is still underway and the developer should be allowed to extend due to the extension delay caused by the developer.

The public hearing drew over 200 people and lasted three and a half hours. The developer argued the project cited the lack of coordination of the development with surrounding areas, an orderly transition from the Long Island area, and the developer's failure to provide any specific areas and meeting a question of "spot zoning."

The majority overruled since the Comprehensive Plan is still underway and the developer should be allowed to extend due to the extension delay caused by the developer.

Those who favored the proposed spoke to the authority of the existing zoning ordinance, opinions of other members of the public, and the developer's development of the project that was rejected by the community.

"I have been told this is a challenge we must not win," Councilman Jack Gottschalk, in charge of the hearing, told the developer.

"I know there are opponents of the long-awaited and long-debated Comprehensive Plan under present plans for the Planning and Zoning Commission, and involved our zoning code, or have them to change, and public opinion would never let us."

Gottschalk cited "walking" by the developer as the reason
