The Great Chocolate Pyramid:

The Great Book of Chocolate David Lebovitz, 2011-07-27 A compact connoisseur's guide with recipes to today's cutting edge array of chocolates and chocolate makers from former Chez Panisse pastry chef David Lebovitz. In this compact volume David Lebovitz gives a succinct cacao botany lesson, explains the process of chocolate making, runs through chocolate terminology and types, presents information on health benefits, offers an evaluating and buying primer, profiles the world's top chocolate makers and chocolatiers with a whole chapter dedicated to Paris alone, and shares dozens of little known factoids in sidebars throughout the book. The Great Book of Chocolate includes more than 50 location and food photographs and features more than 30 of Lebovitz's favorite chocolate recipes from Black Bottom Cupcakes to Homemade Rocky Road Candy Orange and Rum Chocolate Mousse Cake to Double Chocolate Chip Espresso Cookies. His extensive resource section with websites for international ordering can bring the world's best chocolate to every door. A self-avowed chocoholic, Lebovitz nibbles chocolate every day, and with The Great Book of Chocolate in hand, he figures the rest of us will too. The World's Greatest Chocolate-Covered Pork Chops Ryan K. Sager, 2017-06-20 Twelve-year-old chef Zoey Kate's Fried Banana Fondue is delectable, her Maple Cinnamon Crab Fajitas are divine, and her Chocolate Covered Pork Chops are to die for. Zoey is the best cook in town, and she wants everyone to know it. She's on a mission to start her own restaurant but quickly learns that the restaurant industry is competitive and dangerous. There are people who see Zoey as a threat, and they'll use any means necessary to make sure that she fails. Featuring a precocious, larger-than-life character, lots of humor, fast-paced action, and mouth-watering foods, this cooking story is sure to appeal to young foodies and fans of shows like MasterChef Junior and Rachael vs. Guy Kids Cook Off. Pyramids Road Midhat J. Gazalé, 2004 This thoughtful, poignant personal memoir begins in the Cairo of the 1930s with the author's schooldays at the Lycée Français and moves on to paint a rich social and ethnic picture against a backdrop of momentous events: the accession of King Farouk, the Second World War, the Revolution of 1952, the Suez Crisis of 1956. In the unfolding of these historic times, the sense of place too is strong, with vivid descriptions of places long gone, such as the British barracks which once stood where the Nile Hilton now stands, and others that have changed substantially, like Midan Soliman Pasha, now Midan Talaat Harb. The author's life then follows an unexpected course of cultural encounter as he plunges into a high-powered business career in America, Japan, and Europe, that takes him high into executive circles where the lessons he learns of cross-cultural perceptions are both useful and entertaining. Finally, after more than three decades of absence, the author returns to a bewilderingly changed Egypt. He has to ask for help to cross a busy street; a nostalgic visit to his old school brings not pleasure but sadness; and oppressed by the size and pace of Cairo, he seeks the refuge of the idyllic, tree-shaded Pyramids Road that he remembers so well from his childhood, only to find that that too has changed beyond recognition. Midhat Gazalé recollects people, events, and places with uncommon clarity and a gentle humor. His memoirs will fascinate anyone who has ever asked the questions: What was Egypt like then? and How has it
