The Great Success Indonesian Edition:

The Official Indonesian Qur'ān Translation Fadhli Lukman, 2022-10-06 This book studies the political and institutional project of Al Qur'an dan Terjemahnya the official translation of the Qur'an into Indonesian by the Indonesian government. It investigates how the translation was produced and presented and how it is read as well as considering the implications of the state's involvement in such a work. Lukman analyses the politicisation of the Qur'an commentary through discussion of how the tafsir mechanism functions in this version, weighing up the translation's dual constraints: the growing political context on the one hand and the tafsir tradition on the other. In doing so, the book pays attention to three key areas: the production phase, the textual material, and the reception of the translation by readers. This book will be of value to scholars with an interest in tafsir studies, modern and Southeast Asian or Indonesian tafsir sub-fields, the study of Qur'an translations, and Indonesian politics and religion more broadly. Qur'an Translation in Indonesia Johanna Pink, 2023-09-29 This book provides a comprehensive survey of Qur'an translation in Indonesia, the most populous Muslim majority country in the world, with a highly diverse multilingual society. Delving into the linguistic and political dimensions of this field, the contributors, many of whom are Indonesian scholars, employ a wide range of historical, socio-cultural, linguistic, and exegetical approaches to offer fresh insights. In their contributions, the negotiation of authority between state and non-state actors is shown to be a constant theme from the pre-print era through to the colonial and postcolonial periods. Religious organizations, traditional institutions of scholarship, and Wahhabi Salafi groups struggle over the meaning of the Qur'an, while the Ministry of Religious Affairs publishes its own Qur'an translations into many of the country's languages. The contributors also explore the influential role of the Ahmadiyya movement in shaping Qur'an translation in Indonesia. Moreover, they examine the specific challenges that translators face when rendering the Qur'an in languages with structures, histories, and cultural contexts that are vastly different from Arabic. Opening up the work of Indonesian scholars to a wider audience, this book will appeal to anyone interested in Qur'anic studies and Islam in the Southeast Asia region. Batik, Traditional Textiles of Indonesia Rudolf Smend, Donald Harper, 2011-11-15 Batik occupies a special place in Indonesian culture. Each fabric has a rich story to tell as a reflection of the nation's religious beliefs, sophisticated court cultures, and cosmopolitan history. The extraordinary textiles in this book are from the collections of Rudolf Smend and Donald Harper. Most date from the period 1880 to 1930, when the art of batik reached its apogee. Having collected historical batik for over thirty years and published two books on the subject, Rudolf Smend has invited his friend and fellow batik specialist Donald Harper to contribute his fine collection to this publication as well. None of the batik in this book have been published before. They represent an exquisite cross-section of the batik production of Java, the most important batik-producing region in the world. The cloths are complemented by vintage photographs from the first quarter of the 20th century, demonstrating how the batik were worn at court and at home. Three are from museums in Dresden and Cologne, while three are from the private collection.

of Leo Haks The others have been collected over the past 30 years from private sources in Java The captions are by Maria Wronska Friend an ethnologist and batik expert who frequently visits Indonesian batik centers and has worked for many years as an anthropologist in Papua New Guinea Her contributions provide fundamental knowledge for lovers of this art form while at the same time providing new insights for experts Rudolf Smend has invited other batik aficionados of his generation to share their passion for batik in this book Inger McCabe Elliott author of the bestselling Batik Fabled Cloth of Java has contributed her lifelong experience Other authorities like Annegret Haake Brigitte Khan Majlis and Jonathan Hope share their views and expertise in these pages This book represents a labor of love and a lifetime of friendship for the two authors who hope it will provide inspiration to a whole new generation of batik lovers A comprehensive Indonesian-English

Sidney C. H. Cheung, Hing-wah Chau, 2013 Asiamoney ,2006 Inside Indonesia ,1999 Principles of Indonesian Philology Stuart O. Robson, 1988 The personal view of philology presented in the Working Paper is both a stocktaking and a programme for development At a time when Indonesian and foreign scholars are asking questions about the Indonesian classical literary heritage a fresh impulse is needed to propel the work of philologists forward Their work is to make texts accessible and they achieve this through both the techniques of presentation and of explanation and interpretation philology is thus more than mere textual criticism according to Stuart Robson Existing views are assessed in a critical but balanced manner and fruitful avenues of exploration are pointed to It turns out that thinking on philology is moving ahead faster than one might suspect so that the form of the Working Paper is appropriate to suggest an on going process where views neglected today may receive more attention tomorrow The publication of texts from manuscript materials in Indonesian languages calls for a consideration of method no one method is prescribed one has to take account of genre it is suggested as well as textual tradition Furthermore part of the aesthetic content of a text is lost if we fail to consider how it sounds its music And finally there is surely room for more literary translations from Indonesian texts all part of an endeavour to introduce them to a wider audience and to foster a better understanding of their nature and content Tempo ,2008
