I designed a customer service training program that organizations could use to change the attitudes and behavior of employees. This was my ninth year in the consulting and training business. I saw organizations spend millions on advertising trying to attract customers. But then they used baseball bats figuratively to drive them away. This was bizarre behavior. I felt if these organizations would just use The Feelings learning system I developed in 1979, it has been used by millions of people throughout the world. It is cost effective and user friendly, written to be understood by the employee participants, not just management and trainers. It has been updated many times. With COVID throughout the world, most organizations gave up on customer service across the world. It is worse today than in 1979. This book is written for managers, senior and middle managers who influence the customer service of a company by deciding what employees who deal directly with customers on the phone, the Internet or in person will deliver an awesome customer experience. They tell employees what is expected of them in terms of customer service and they evaluate and report to them their service performance. Service leaders and champions of service can use this book to drive a service strategy. Entrepreneurs who want to grow their businesses through a service culture will find these ideas valuable.
